

Here, There Around Town

By Local Observer

A Newmarket couple visited Mexico on a holiday trip. Prior to returning home, the wife was having difficulty trying to decide on her choice of a suitable souvenir.

Everything looked so beautiful, it was difficult making a selection. Finally, impressed with the exquisitely tooled leather handbags, this Newmarket woman decided on one of them as her gift of Mexico to herself.

As they waited in the small shop for the sales clerk to wrap the parcel, they chatted informally. "You are from Canada?" the Mexican woman asked.

"Yes," replied our friend. "From a small town near Toronto in the province of Ontario. Do you know of Toronto?"

"No, I don't know that place. I know of Newmarket. That's where the Davis Leather factory is. We get our leather from them for these purses," she said.

Daylight saving will be observed in Newmarket for the same period that it is in Toronto, from 2 a.m. April 26, to 2 a.m. September 22.

On Wednesday, two members of the Newmarket Home and School association, Mrs. Ray Holbrook and Mrs. Nelson Ion, attended the annual provincial convention of Home and School associations at the Royal York hotel, Toronto. At the banquet in the evening, at which approximately 1,100 men and women were present, the local women were seated at one of the small tables arranged in the banquet hall.

Introductions with the neighboring Home and School people were conducted. Across the table from the Newmarket pair was Mrs. James Otton, London, a sister-in-law of Mrs. S. W. Otton. Next to her was a Mrs. R. D. Hill, Brantford, a personal relative of several of Mrs. Ion's relatives in that city. Along the line was a Mrs. G. Gardiner, Forest Hill village, who had been a discussion leader at a recent Home and School council meeting which the Newmarket group had attended. And, finally the long arm of coincidence reached to yet another of the dinner party. She was Mrs. W. Allen, publications convener of the provincial organization who is a sister-in-law of Mrs. Joel Spillette. Who says it isn't a small world?

An official thank-you was received by the Newmarket council on Monday night from the Lord Mayor of London, England. It acknowledged gratefully the financial donations made by local residents to the Flood and Tempest Fund.

$1,404 RAISED
A total sum of $1,404 has been received by the Newmarket Lions club Easter Seal campaign for the crippled children's fund. The Lions announce that they will accept donations for the fund.

SCOUT MEETING
An important meeting of the Boy Scout Men's committee will be held on Monday, April 13, at 8 p.m. The committee asks that all parents and interested citizens attend when important matters will be discussed about the Scout organization.

$83.52 FOR FUND
The Salvation Army in Newmarket recently held a rummage sale of used clothing collected for the benefit of the overseas flood fund. A total of $83.52 was raised.

'Chicken Or Egg First' Monthly Issue Continues

Discussion over a boat renting licence at Orchard Beach, Lake Simcoe, has become a regular monthly feature of the North Gwillimbury township council. At the regular meeting at Belhaven on Monday, Messrs. Cameron and Matthews asked council to promise that Charles Janston, Orchard Beach, would not be given a boat renting licence. Members of council indicated that it did not appear that Janston would be issued a licence.

Joseph Dales, Newmarket, solicitor for Janston, subsequently appeared at the meeting and asked council to provide a reason for not issuing a licence to Janston for the purpose of renting boats. He told council that Janston had a sizeable investment in his business and wanted to protect it.

Dales said he understood the Department of Lands and Forests would grant Janston a licence of occupation if council would grant a boat livery licence.

94 Births In March A Record At Hospital, Plan To Add Building

A record was set at York County hospital in the maternity wing during March when 94 babies were born there. Congestion was felt throughout the hospital. To alleviate the situation, the board is planning "an additional building to look after the surplus," said Kenneth Stiver, Q.C., chairman. "We are not able to provide the facilities required of us."

During March, York County hospital which is the only general hospital between Toronto and Barrie had a daily average of 68.6 patients. The hospital is listed as a 62 bed institution. Miss Lillian Thomas, superintendent of nurses for the hospital said, "Our statistics show that for March we had a 98 per cent occupancy. A hospital is considered filled to capacity at about 80 per cent occupancy. This takes into consideration the vacancy of a percentage of beds made necessary by the daily flow of in-coming and out-going patients as well as the periodic vacancies for renovations."

In March all the 24 beds in the maternity wing were filled, with some patients having to remain in the corridors. "This is the first time that maternity has been rushed," said Miss Thomas.

SCOTT TOWNSHIP COUNCIL OPPOSED TO HEALTH UNIT

At the regular monthly meeting of Scott township council held at the township hall in the afternoon of Saturday, April 4, all members were present.

Communications were read from the county clerks of York and Ontario, advising that the road from Urdora to Brock township had been taken off the county road systems. The county clerk of Ontario asked for the council's opinion regarding a proposal to establish a county health unit. The Department of Agriculture sent an additional cheque toward Sandford community hall.

A resolution stated that "health services are being taken care of well enough at the present time and we are therefore very much opposed to the establishment of the proposed health unit at this time."

Reeve Thaxter and Councillors Bain and Luke were appointed a committee to look into the matter of surveying village lots at Leaskdale.

Three tenders had been submitted for crushing and laying gravel on township roads were received and contract was awarded to R. A. Blyth Co., Toronto.

At a previous meeting of the members of council, Mr. Orville Gilhooly had been appointed inspector of warble fly spraying and Clarence Pickering as operator of the spraying machine. Reports of township work were presented and it was decided that if the work was not progressing speedily enough under the present arrangements additional help would be engaged.

START WARBLE CONTROL

Warble fly control is to be started in North Gwillimbury township. Whitechurch township also decided on a similar control program. The North Gwillimbury council has authorized the rental of a sprayer and Robert Nicholson and George Hillaby will be instructed in the spraying of cattle.

'Chicken Or Egg First' Monthly Issue Continues

but that council was waiting for the department to issue its licence first. "Which comes first, the chicken or the egg?" asked Mr. Dales. Magistrate Hollinrake asked a similar question during a court case over the same issue last fall.

Dales maintains that the council has no power to "legislate a man out of business but it has the power to control and supervise the manner in which he deals with the public."

A 1950 by-law creating Orchard Beach as a residential area prohibits new business from moving into the area and the by-law is being used as a reason for not granting the boat renting licence.

Mr. Dales points out that Janston was in business before 1950, before the residential by-law was passed. You can't pass a by-law and put a man out of business when he has already been established and has already made an investment," he said.

CORONATION PLANS TO BE DECIDED AT MEETING APRIL 10

Preliminary plans have been held between the Newmarket council's Coronation committee and the Coronation committee of the Canadian Legion to discuss the festivities for Coronation day.

Many of the older generations can recall various coronation days, back to the time of Edward the Seventh. The coronation of this year may be the last that will be observed by most of the adults of today. Organizations are asked to have a representative on hand at the general meeting, April 10, 8 p.m., at the council chambers.

LIONS' MINSTRELS FIFTH ANNUAL SHOW

The Newmarket Lions club's fifth annual Minstrel Show will be staged at the Newmarket town hall next week, April 14, 15, 16 and 17. This year the show will feature a Hammond organ and piano instead of an orchestra. Over $5,000 worth of equipment is represented in the Hammond organ, the Lions report.

The organist will be Florence Goldsmith and pianist, Mrs. C. E. Blodale.

Featured soloists this year will be Murray Huntley, Terry Doane and Charles E. Boyd. Mr. Interlocutor, as usual will be Alex Eves and Ang West will be Mr. Interrupter. The Minstrels' emcees will be Jack Luesby, Allan Read, Dick Hillard and Gene McCaffrey.

The seating plan for the show is at Best's drug store.

Expect Raise In Hydro Rates Question Commission Policy

Mayor Joseph Vale questioned a matter of hydro commission policy when the town auditor, H. B. Hector spoke on the 1952 financial statement of the corporation of Newmarket at a council meeting on Monday night. The town, like all municipalities is faced with a possible increase in hydro rates in the near future.

"The local Hydro Commission explains that the province will be charging more for the hydro and that those increases must be passed along and met by the local hydro users," said the mayor. "The increase is expected to be as much as 33 1/3 per cent with the provincial hydro adding $16,000 to local hydro costs annually."

"At one time we used to light the town and show a surplus. Now the Hydro commission shows a surplus but the tax payers don't benefit. An increase in rates is coming," Mr. Vale said.

Several councillors pointed out that when the Hydro commission was set up following the war, the local equipment and lines were in very poor condition. Not only did much of the existing equipment require replacement but with the growth of the town since the mid-1940's, many new services have been added. The surpluses have been used to replace and add new equipment.

The mayor, returning to the annual financial statement, questioned the transfer of one sum from a previous classification. In 1950 the town debentured for $20,000 for hydro. Of this sum, $27,000 was allocated to frequency standardization expenses.

In the statement presented by Mr. Hector at Monday's council meeting $16,000 of this latter amount of $27,000, had been charged against the operating surplus. "How can they do that," questioned the mayor. "I'm on the commission and I don't recall any resolution regarding this matter."

HOLLAND LANDING ORGANIZES NEW GUIDE COMPANY

A group of Guides, members of the 1st Newmarket Girl Guide company, visited the newly organized Holland Landing company on Wednesday night, April 1. The visitors provided the program which consisted of a demonstration of a regular Guide meeting.

In the sample of Guide work was included an opening ceremony, inspection, semaphore and knots, games and a campfire. The Holland Landing Guides joined in the program which ended with Taps.

A return visit will be made by the Holland Landing company to the Newmarket group when the latter holds an enrolment and parents' night on Wednesday, April 29.

Tax Rate At 64 Mills After Budget Cutting

A tax rate of 64 mills was set by the Newmarket council at a meeting on Monday night. Chairman of the finance committee, Herbert Gladman said that after committees and school boards had cut down their 1953 estimates at council's request, council had arrived at a mill rate of 63. He asked that council add on an extra mill to cover incidentals and interest on money borrowed for the Main St. project which is to start soon.

"We had several meetings of the finance committee in an effort to cut down estimates," said Deputy-Reeve Gladman. We asked the public school board to cut $3,000 off its 1953 estimates. They have managed to take off $2,300.

He said that the board had reported that it would have to postpone a number of its plans for 1953.

The county tax levy is down 7,000 which helped out considerably, Mr. Gladman said.

A breakdown of the mill rate is as follows: general rates, 17.4 mills; public and separate schools, 20 mills; high school, 6 mills; county rate, 4 mills; 14 mills; relief costs, .3 mills, and library, .6 mills.

This year's tax rate represents an increase of three mills over 1952. Council had found that it would have a tax rate of over 70 mills without cutting any of the estimates from committees and boards.

Clark Favors Purchase Of North Gwillimbury Police Radio Equipment

North Gwillimbury township council dealt with the matter of a police commission for the three municipalities of Sutton, Georgina and North Gwillimbury at a meeting in Belhaven Monday. Council sought Councillor James Clark's opinion on what had been decided upon while he had been absent for the past month.

Clark favored the purchase of a two-way radio for two new police cars. This radio installation, complete with a 70 foot tower, would cost $2,585. A radium of 20 to 30 miles would be the extent of the broadcast.

Councillor Clark said, "There has been a lot of 'yapping' about no police enforcement. A man, however, cannot work 24 hours a day. This two-way radio on two police cars would still not give us full police protection but I feel that full protection is not required. We have gone this far and we will have to go further. This is the start. We will soon be forced into a position where we will have to have a proper building to suit the needs of the clerk, assessor and police. Some won't like it; the majority will."

The two-way radio installation has been contracted for and is to be installed not later than May 1, 1953, with the controls located in Police Chief William Hill's house.

The stage of the Newmarket Town Hall was a busy spot this week as the members of the Dramatic Club put the finishing touches to their production of "Papa Is All", which will be presented on Friday and Saturday evenings, April 10 and 11.

Lois and Norman Hathaway are decorating the new set constructed by Jack Fisher while stage manager Ken Leaming experiments with the new lighting system which will be used for the first time for this show.

The cast of the play is a combination of new and familiar faces. The newcomers to the stage are Bill Elliott who plays the part of the tyrannical father; Diana Haddad, as the love-starved but determined daughter; and Bill Robinson as a stalwart State Trooper.

Grace Sinclair as the gossip neighbor, is as effervescent as ever and is an ideal foil for the calm long suffering character of Mama as played by Alma Stephens. Nick Styke as the brown-beaten but ambitious son is playing a new type of part for him and, according to reports, is doing very well.

Members of the club who have witnessed rehearsals are enthusiastic about this latest effort. "Papa Is All" is being directed by Mike McMorris whose successful production two years ago of "Dirty Work at the Crossroads" is still remembered. According to the director this play is different but just as entertaining as "Dirty Work".

Tickets for the show are available from club members or at McCaffrey's Flower Shop. Reservations may be made at McCaffrey's.

CITIZENS' EXPERT SAYS:

Need Closer Touch With Council

"The electorate should keep in close touch with the town council during the year and the expression of the public interest can be provided by a group such as a ratepayers' association," Mr. Eric Hardy told members of Newmarket's ratepayers' association last week.

An organizational meeting was held in the fire hall auditorium last week for the ratepayers' association. Mr. Hardy, director of the Citizens' Research Institute was guest speaker at the meeting. Another meeting is to be held shortly.

In elections, the greatest number of votes is cast during a federal election in a municipality but in a municipal election, the lowest number is cast, Mr. Hardy said. It is not entirely because there is a smaller number of people entitled to vote in municipal elections. It is that people are not sufficiently interested in the job their local government must do.

The job of town government is a management undertaking with a number of physical services which must be administered, such as school buildings, parks, water systems, sewage disposal systems and public utilities as well as administration of town finances.

To do this work efficiently it is not essential that members of council should consider themselves experts or laymen trying to become experts, he said. The experts are the people the town pays: the town clerk or town engineer. But since council directs the course which is to be followed, in relation to the amount of taxes levied on the people, the selection of elected representatives is extremely important. It is desirable that the electorate keep in close touch with council during the year and that expression of interest can be given by groups such as ratepayers' associations. One individual is not heard but council must listen to a group, Mr. Hardy said.

Mr. Hardy showed that he was familiar with recent municipal happenings in Newmarket and pointed out that unless a greater interest is shown in nominations for public office in the town and the best type of people put forward for election, a healthy election will never take place.

It is most unhealthy when nominations just fill the vacancies and there is no competition. He said that the important item in the function of a good council is not so much in saving dollars for a tax bill, but by ensuring a better rate for every dollar which is spent in the town's administration.

In many localities interest in local government is shown by service clubs and church groups but with these groups the interest is a sideline rather than an objective. A community organization, which wants to learn more about local government and to make a contribution to local government in the town, will not only increase the interest in civic affairs but will improve the quality of service which the local government is rendering to the community.

Mr. Hardy said that in the formation of a community group, thought should be given to the inclusion of property owners, tenants of real property, as well as other residents in the community. He felt that by making the membership open to a larger percentage of the citi-

MILL REQUESTED BY LIBRARY BOARD CUT TO $2,870

Among the public bodies which suffered budget cuts in the striking of the 1953 mill rate by the Newmarket town council was the public library board. The library board had submitted an estimate the equivalent of one mill, equal to $4,371.

A list of town grants in the council's budget report for 1953 is the library board grant of $2,870. A member of the library board pointed out this week that the report indicates that the board had requested $2,870.

"There must have been a mistake in the report. We asked for $4,371," the library representative said.

The board's estimate of one mill was intended to cover increased costs, the establishment of an adequate circulating system and anticipated expenditures in connection with the acquisition of new quarters for the library.

DAIRY FARMERS PLANNING TO USE MORE ADVERTISING

A $400,000.00 June advertising set-aside this year is the objective of the Dairy Farmers of Canada, according to Secretary-Manager Erle Kitchen, Toronto. This total has never been reached by the three previous set-asides. The nearest approach to this figure was in 1950 when $344,000 was realized.

Mr. Kitchen pointed out that, based on June 1952 milk production, this year's objective is just under 80 percent of the amount possible and represents an increase of 23 percent over the 1952 set-aside of $325,000.

Discussing the need for a greater set-aside, O.J.W. Shugg, director of publicity for the Dairy Farmers of Canada, said that new, abnormal conditions influencing the dairy industry's course at the present time made it imperative that both product advertising and public relations programs be expanded to meet the new situation.

There must be a greater frequency of impact on the public and even a $400,000 fund would be strained to do the job dairy producers require. All dairy producer organizations must lend their support if the new objective was to be reached, Mr. Shugg said.

THURSDAY, THE NINTH DAY OF APRIL, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-FIFTY-THREE

INCREASING TAX RATES

Newmarket's tax rate has been set at 64 mills. The town council had been faced with the problem of a mill rate of over 70 when all school estimates and committee estimates were brought in. Mr. Herbert Gladman and his finance committee requested a close cutting of the year's estimates. Committees and boards went to work on reducing their budgets.

All councils fear a large increase in the tax rate and the members of the 1953 Newmarket council would by no means feel at ease by introducing a mill rate of over 70. Committees had to cancel some of their plans for improvements and it is possible that some had to make a pinch which under ordinary circumstances they would be ill advised to do. It was not revealed at the Monday council meeting as to what exactly was cut out of the 1953 program. Time will tell.

High costs of material and rising costs of labor play havoc with committee planning from year to year. The tax rate has been going up every year in at least the past ten. Roads, bridges, sidewalks, buildings must be maintained and there is always room for improvements as the town grows. In spite of these rising costs, a council does not want to see the tax rate go up.

As a solution to rising tax rates, some people argue that Newmarket should have a larger population and to acquire a larger population, more industry is needed, they argue. It is not a reasonable argument in this case of tax rates, although there are other reasons why the town should have more industry. With new industry comes more housing and with more housing comes an increased financial burden on the town for new streets and services. It is a question whether the added assessment on new industry and new homes offsets these high costs for services or not.

But what is necessary is an adequate assessment on each piece of property and every building in the community. If some assessments are too low, there is an unnecessary burden on the taxpayers. The first thing council should do in the light of these rising tax rates is to be perfectly sure that assessments in the municipality are equalized and up to date.

NO PEACE FEARS

What so many people want to know these days is whether or not the peace moves by Russia are sincere ones. With these thoughts about a true peace, some people talk about the nation's economy in a different light. "What will happen if we don't need these big defence plants?" some ask. We really wonder if some people are afraid that there will be no threat of war and that the prosperity of our country will be retarded by the effects on the economy.

With the peace moves it was noted that the stock market took a drop and financial publications and daily papers carried editorials this week to dispel the idea that industrialists and financiers fear peace.

The Financial Post said "If peace can be achieved, even some measure of it, then we can get ahead with the real job of making possible a better life for more people in more parts of the world and, if we manage our affairs wisely, prosper in doing it."

The Toronto Globe and Mail commented on "recent news stories from New York (that) suggest that because stock values have fallen . . . the Western World fears peace in Korea and with the Communist world in general. The impression is left that a switch from a war to a peace economy would be injurious to our basic economy".

"That of course is not true," the Globe and Mail goes on. "Any change in the pattern of industrial activity causes stock market reactions . . . The possibility of peace does not depress the market any more than it attracts other buyers. That is especially so when there is no panic selling, but only enough liquidation to protect accounts. And that is all that has been happening these last ten days."

We hope that we will never hear again, that Canadians or others in the western world fear or would regret a state of world peace. Yet undoubtedly there are individuals whose self-interest is greater than their desire for a peaceful world. The existence of such people also provides the best propaganda material.

SOCIETY IN DISTRESS

From all reports, the North York Humane Society is having a large share of financial difficulties. The main reason for the society's problems seems to lie with the owners of dogs who either refuse to buy licences or ignore their duty. The society depends on licence fees to finance its operations. The first year it took over dog control in Newmarket and other municipalities of North York, it received public funds to start its program. Newmarket paid $2,000 to the society for taking on dog control responsibilities, with the understanding that during subsequent years it would depend on income from dog licences.

Last fall the society moved its headquarters and kennels from Newmarket to a new location at Aurora. A considerable amount of money was used for the new location and at present there is a shortage of cash to put the new headquarters into a suitable condition. Meanwhile the dog licence situation is not going well.

The North York Humane society's inspector calls on residents to collect licence fees. Fewer fees are being collected than there were when Newmarket had its own collector. In one year around $700 was collected in Newmarket before the society took over dog control responsibility. Last year only $561 was collected by the Humane Society inspector. From Aurora $390 was collected and from Richmond Hill $218 was collected.

There is a vicious circle found in the society's problem. The inspector, who has the authority of a police officer, calls at homes to collect the dog licence. Owners of pets refuse to pay the fee but the inspector does not have the time, nor does the society have the money which it should have from fees, to carry on court cases. The inspector can seize pets and impound them but this practice also proves expensive as there seems to be few pet owners who will pay the money to retrieve their impounded pets. Cost of feeding the animals in the pound is too great for the society in its present financial position.

The solution is more money and more co-operation on the part of persons who own dogs. If they want to keep dogs, they should like them enough to be willing to pay a licence fee. If people continue to keep dogs but refuse to pay the fee, the community will still have a problem in the dog nuisance and the community will still need the Humane Society to combat it. No matter how one looks at it, it is still a public problem.

LESS PROGRESS IN NORTH

Although the third and final reading of provincial Bill 80 has not yet been passed to create a metropolitan area of Toronto and southern York municipalities, a metropolitan council has been set up, headed by Mr. Fred G. Gardiner, former reeve of Forest Hill Village. An inaugural meeting of the council is to be held on April 15.

Rapid progress is being made in the south to iron out the metropolitan area problems but there seems to be less progress among the representatives of the northern municipalities which will constitute the remainder of York county. The southern municipalities who form the new metropolitan area are already taking part in the work and planning which will set up their new government.

There is little heard about the northern government-to-be and it appears that some or all of the planning may be done by the "old" York County council which still includes representatives from the southern metropolitan municipalities. Is the planning for the north's future to be done by representatives from metropolitan municipalities? The rural representatives of the county are taking no part in metropolitan plans and there is no reason why the future of the rural county should not be guided by representatives from its component municipalities only. The southern representatives should be left out of the picture.

It would sound reasonable to suggest that the northern representatives should be meeting now to decide how roads are going to be financed and to iron out other problems. The final reading of Bill 80 will be passed by next fall and northern municipalities should be pondering early about what amendments are needed.

Cuttin Corners will be holding two festivals this year. The first will commemorate the day the first milk route was started in the Corners on May 29, 1933. On May 29 this year Slim Bliggins, natural born primitive artist and editorial advisor, part time, will drive the first milk wagon to ply the streets of Cuttin Corners.

The second festival will be the "Pickled Thimbleberry" festival, to be held in July when a Miss Pickled Thimbleberry of 1953 will be chosen from a bevy of lovely young Cuttin Cornians.

Williams Rudolph Cursed Jr., in the Cuttin Corners Clarion Blast, published once every two weeks, writes that "pickled thimbleberries represent Cuttin Corners' greatest and fastest growing industry."

"Seventy-five percent of the pickled thimbleberries consumed in the province are grown and pickled within a nine-mile radius of Cuttin Corners," the Clarion Blast states.

In an editorial, William Rudolph Cursed Jr. writes that Cuttin Corners citizens had better be proud of their great industry. There will be a great and huge Pickled Thimbleberry Festival in July and it is the duty of all citizens of Cuttin Corners to get out and through the streets, muster feelings of civic pride which should burst from them in the form of loud and spontaneous cheers.

"When Miss Pickled Thimbleberry of 1953 rides down the street on Cuttin Corners' first and original milk delivery wagon, a feeling of civic pride will be noted among the surging throngs of citizens who will realize what the community has in a local beauty and relic of by-gone days," the editorial goes on to say.

Cuttin Corners seems to be proud of its civic heritage but there also appears to be some doubt as to whether the pickled thimbleberry represents Cuttin Corners' most important industry or not. Twenty years ago, of course, illegal distillation was the thriving industry of the district.

A controversy has arisen in council, reports our Corner correspondent, Slim Bliggins. "Although the thimbleberry is the emblem of East Thimbleberry township, Councillor Colin DeHoggs arose in a recent meeting of council and said that not pickled thimbleberries, but the famous bottled Fuzzy Waters was the most important product which contain secret qualities," writes Bliggins.

"Fuzzy Waters sales have been very low since the modern 'pop' has been brought on the market. In 1894 a bottling plant had been opened in the Corners and its product had advertised as a 'rejuvenator' but the company has never grown to be a very large organization. Council don't appear hasty in discriminatin' between local industries," Slim reports.

In spite of this controversy, it appears that the civic promotion association is going ahead with plans for the Pickled Thimbleberry Festival.

The Top Six Inches by "Dairy Farmer"

Now that the sun is shining and the land is drying fast and the season seems just about four weeks early and maybe more, we are on the spot. If one goes ahead and does as the weather says, and then it turns cold and wet, as it will may, it would be not so good. If we don't do as the weather indicates, we may miss a golden opportunity that presents itself to get a head start, one that may not occur again for years.

It makes one wonder, what would farming and work on the farm be like if we had four to six weeks more of a growing season. Just let us suppose, for fun, that we could count on the first of April to be frost-free, roads all dried up, the sun shining and the land ready to drive on. It would mean pasture around the first of May and on some land, earlier. We could grow some more fall rye and have it top dressed in the spring and then have very early pasture.

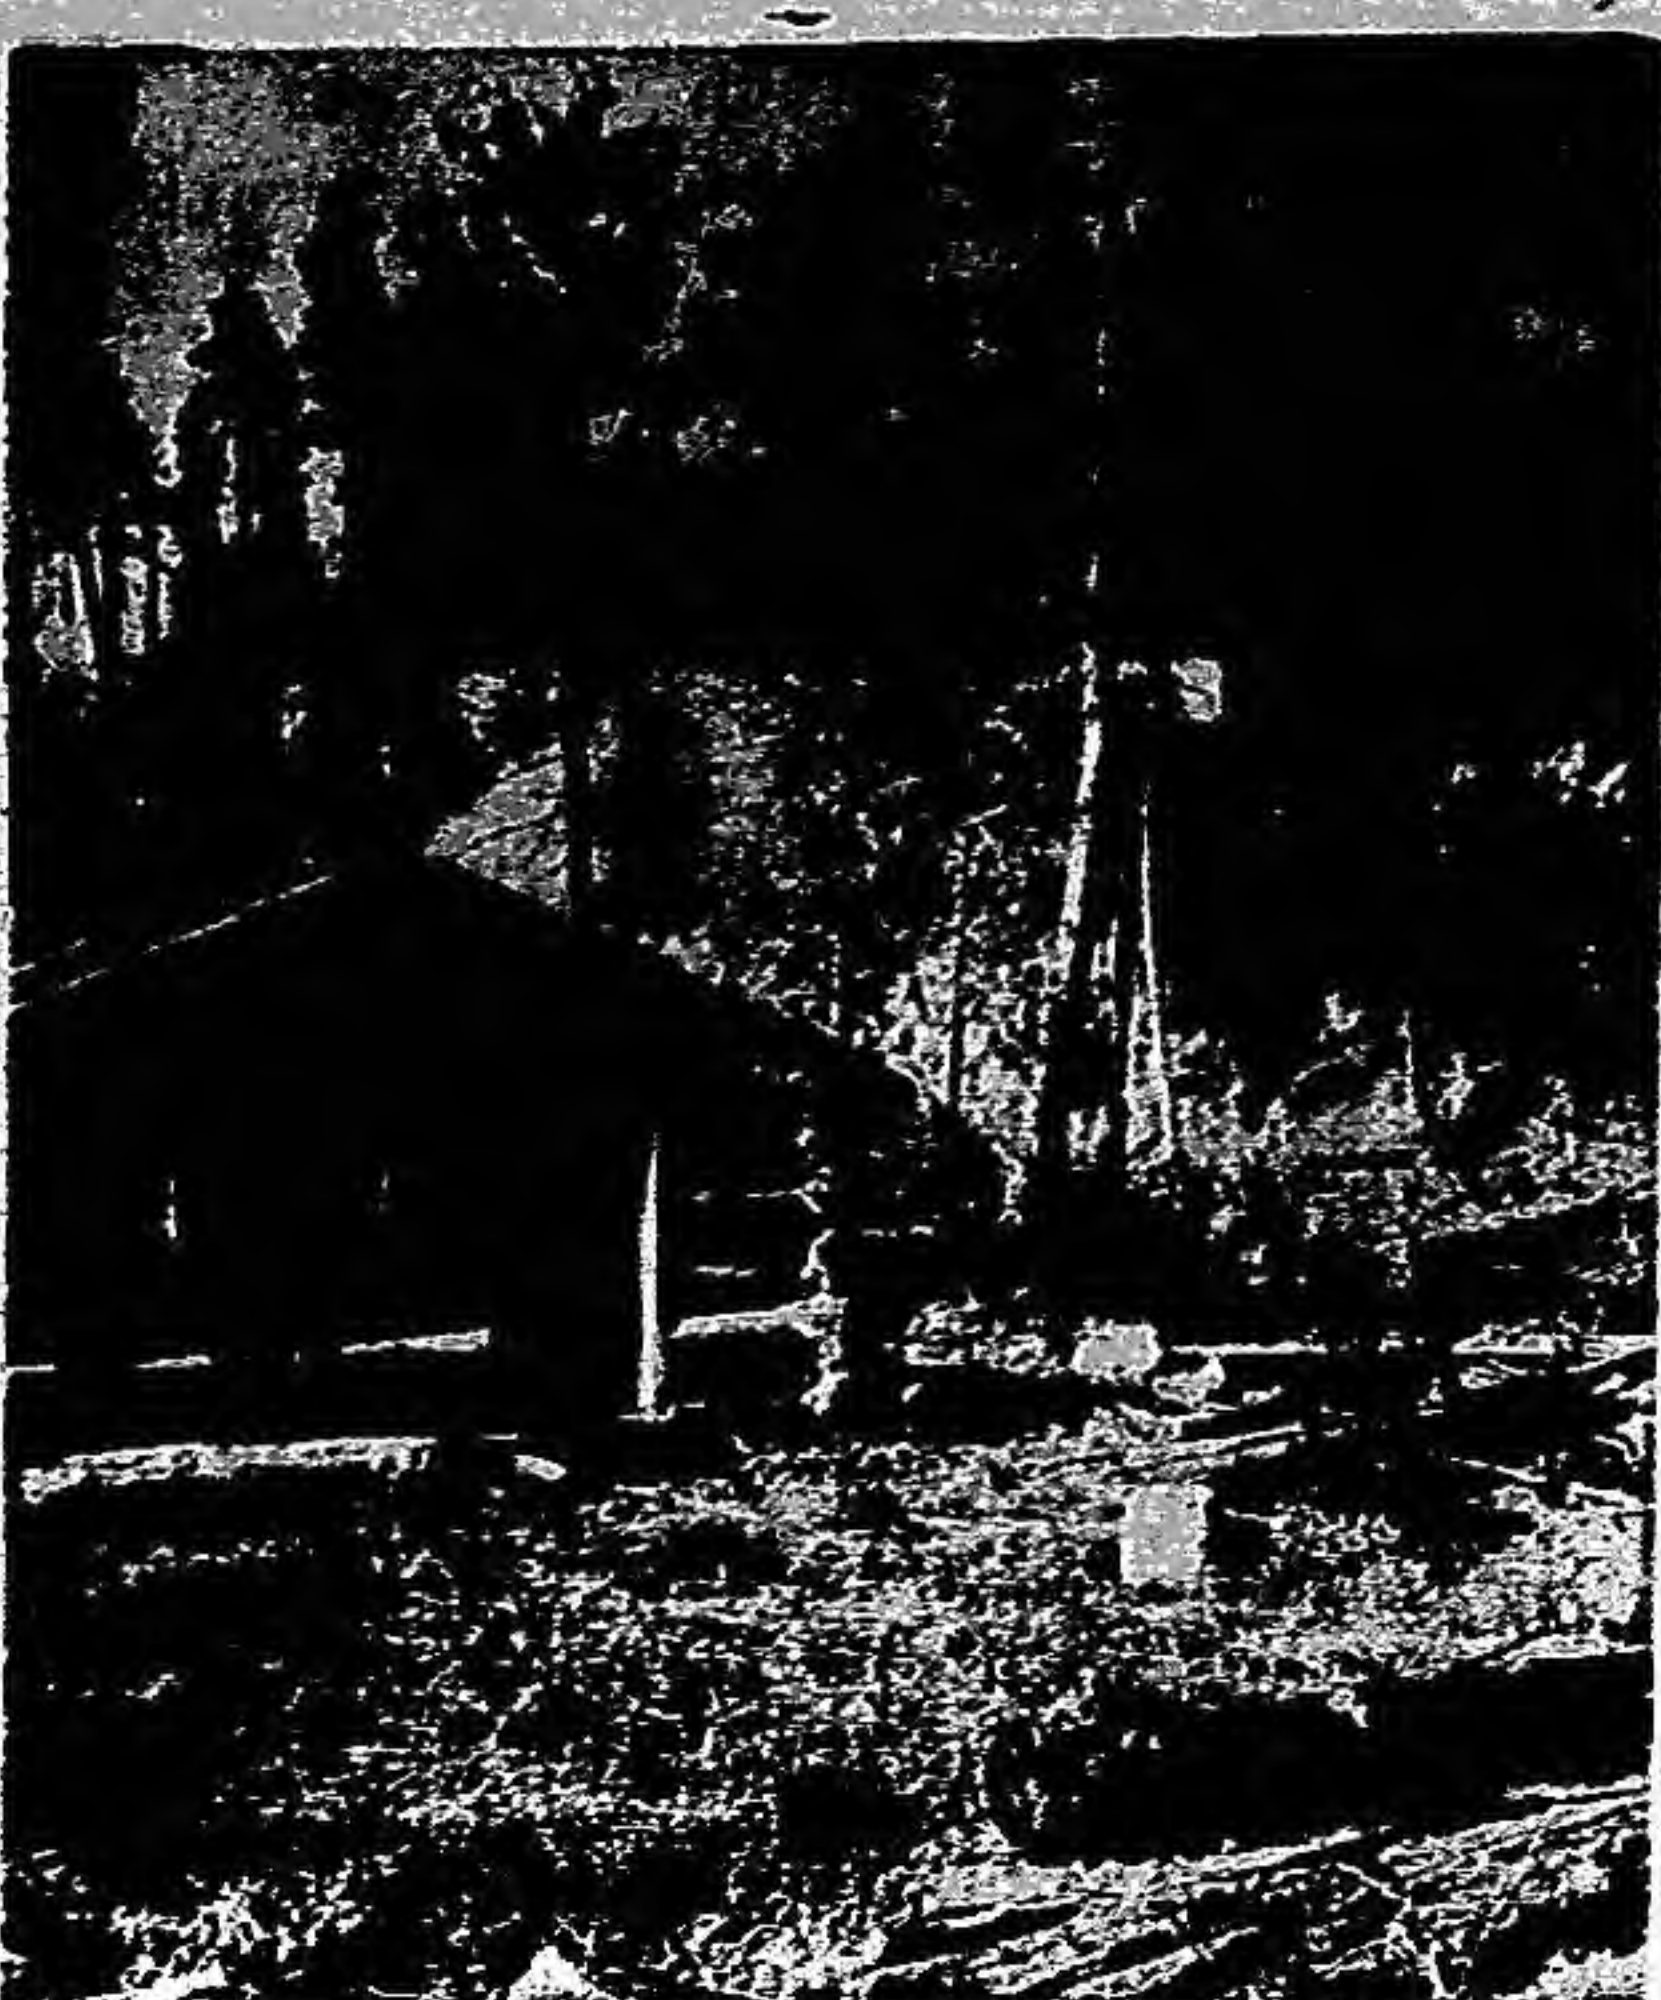

Corn would be easy to grow and haying would be no problem and since we would be sure of three cuttings, we could keep more animals per acre of land or grow more cash crops per farm. Since we would have more time to do the work in the season, we could get along with implements of smaller value. All this would happen if we had a season that was four to six weeks longer.

Well, we haven't got it and if this happens to be one, it is a freak and certainly the exception to the rule. But let us not forget that there are parts of this continent that are this way and let us remember that we have to compete with them for markets.

NAVY LEARNS HOW ARMY OPERATES

After an eight-day tour of Canadian army positions in Korea, three sailors from HMCS Crescent have decided that sleeping in a hammock in a destroyer at sea is more comfortable than a cot in an army tent. The first Canadian sailors to take the tour, the purpose of which is to familiarize the navy with how the army operates, the trio, after leaving their ship in Kure, Japan, were flown to Seoul, Korea, to the Princess Patricia's camp, where they spent four days learning about army life, then whisked to the artillery positions of the RCHA, where they spent another two days. A trip to a Canadian observation post at the front and a final two days back with the "Pats" in camp completed the trip. Above, A.B. Keith Bennett of Winnipeg is given lowdown on army by Don Mason of Victoria, B.C.

Only a few of the hundreds of careless people who start fires like this every year ever see the damage they do. Even if this hunter's cabin survives, it won't do future hunters much good; there'll be no hunting for years to come, nor any homes, newspapers or books made from those burning trees.

From the Files of 25 and 50 Years Ago

APRIL 6, 1928

After an absence of six months in the Old Country, Mr. Albert Rogers got back to Toronto on Sunday and was so much interested in the news of the fire in Newmarket that he phoned his sympathy with the Board of Trustees and offered on behalf of the Pickering College any assistance they could render in connection with school arrangements.

Mrs. F. H. Garrett entertained a number of ladies at bridge on Saturday afternoon, when four tables were in play. Mrs. Garrett was formerly Miss Thompson of Newmarket.

Miss Annie Tunney has purchased a house and lot situated on Park Ave., from Mr. David Soper of Mich., N.Y.

Miss Annie Knowles entertained the "Comrades Class" in the basement of the Christian church recently. About 60 were present and all report a jolly evening.

Dr. J. H. Wesley returned from New York on Sunday where he had a most interesting time studying the x-ray demonstrations and improvements in the several hospitals.

Mr. C. S. Lundy, BSc, son of Reeve and Mrs. F. A. Lundy, Queen St., has accepted a position as assistant engineer at the International Nickel Mines, Creighton, Ont.

Mrs. J. R. Teasdale and children of Kearney are spending the Easter holidays with her father, J. G. Muir.

Mr. Gordon Thompson of Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Thompson, Park Ave., was home for the weekend.

Miss Estella M. Rose and Mr. J. W. Kellcher of Bathurst St., Toronto, were visiting over the weekend at Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Rose's, Millard Ave.

Mr. Gordon Hunter and bride of Montreal are spending Easter vacation with his parents.

Mrs. May Lamb of Goderich is spending a week or ten days with her mother, Mrs. E. C. Jackson.

APRIL 10, 1903

Mr. Judd Stephens of Bradford, who resided in Newmarket 20 years ago and was a member of the band, was in town yesterday and gave us a call.

Miss Mattie Watson of Toronto spent Tuesday night with the Misses Richardson, and attended the "Fad Party".

Arthur Thompson, son of Mr. Albert Thompson at the North End, fell through a hole in the snow at Mr. Sam Lundy's barn on Monday and sprained his wrist pretty badly.

One day last week, Mr. Simon Thompson of East Gwillimbury, father of Mr. George Thompson on Gorham Street, walked to Newmarket, a distance of 13 miles, and after remaining a couple of days walked home again. Mr. Thompson is in his 80th year.

Rev. Milton Colman and bride of Brampton were the guests of Mr. H. D. Harman on Tuesday.

Mr. George McDonald was home over Sunday and left on Tuesday for Winnipeg. He may go out to the coast.

Mrs. W. J. Readhead and two small children were visiting her sister, Mrs. Boden, Hartman, last week.

Miss Stella Taylor, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. B. W. Hunter, has returned to her home in Winnipeg.

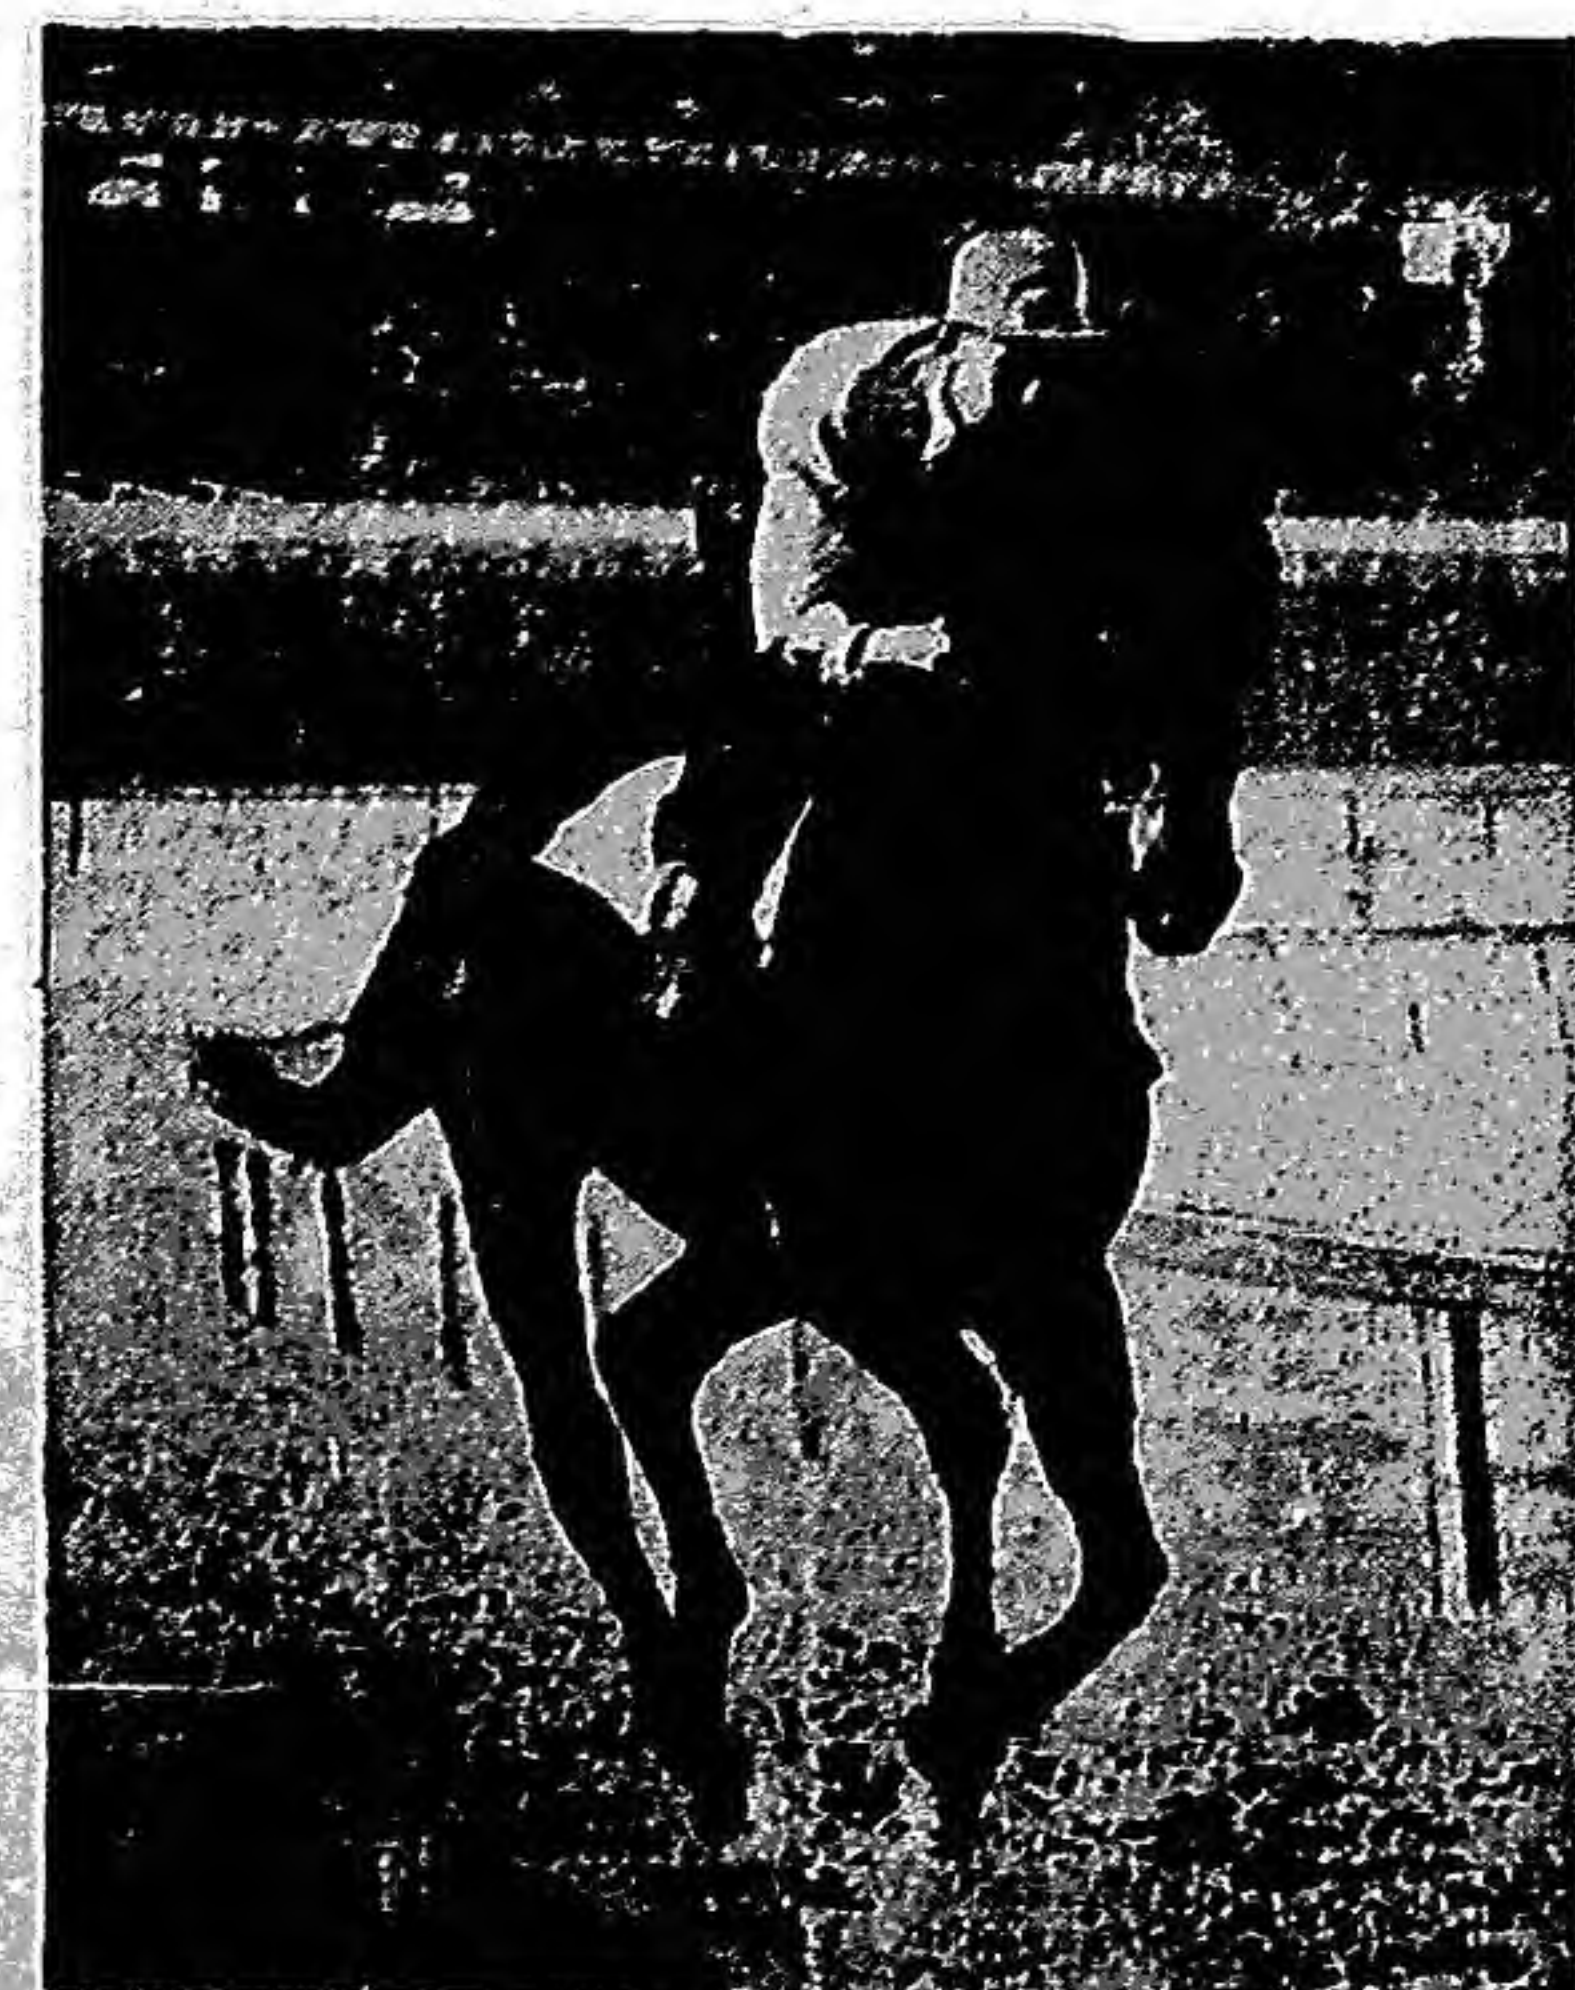

Mr. Wm. Huft of Sharon now occupies the Wesley farm on Gorham St., which he recently purchased.

Mrs. McDonagh is just getting around again after suffering from a sprained ankle for over three weeks.

Mrs. J. H. Forhan, principal of the Model School, has accepted a similar position at Rat Portage, with an increase in salary, to take effect after the summer holidays.

Farm produce was as follows: ducks, 70c to $1; turkeys, 12c to 14c; but... 19c to 21c lb.; eggs 10c to 11c doz.; flour $3.60 to $4.00 per barrel; peas per bushel, 60c to 65c.

WESTERN FILLY TRAINS FOR QUEEN'S PLATE

Virginia Fair, Western Canada juvenile champion of 1952, gallops over the frozen racing strip at Edmonton's Exhibition Grounds as she trains for the 94th renewal of the Queen's Plate at Toronto, May 24. The filly, which is owned by J. A. Charlesworth, Edmonton, is the West's main hope for Plate laurels.

The other day someone said to me, "What's the idea of having this Town Pulpit column in the paper?" I answered very simply. I think I told him the truth. I replied something like this, "Well, my friend, one of the reasons for the column is that we believe that every department of our life should be affected by the religious. We believe that the world in general and the individual in particular would be much better if the Christ of the Scriptures had a chance to direct every day affairs of us. So we use this medium to present His claims upon our lives."

We preach Christ Himself, Christ yesterday, today and forever the same. Christ as Prophet, Priest and King. Christ in His humiliation and Christ in His glory. Christ as the Lamb foreordained before the foundation of the world; promised unto our first parents in the garden of Eden; witnessed by the law and the prophets. Christ announced and described with growing clearness and with ardent longing by the Prophets; Christ welcomed by the godly in Israel; Christ who in the fullness of time was sent; who of His own blessed accord and grace came to minister to others and lay down His life as a ransom; Christ who glorified God by His obedience and finally on the cross accomplished everlasting redemption. Christ, who is the Resurrection and the Life; who is now the Saviour of sinners, the strength and the hope of the saints; who will come again to fulfill the whole counsel of God and establish His kingdom.

Him we desire to declare (even by such a humble column as this) a Person, true man and yet true God, in whom we possess the Father and from whom we receive the Spirit; a Person so glorious that only the Scriptures can present Him to our mind, and only the Spirit by whom the Scriptures were given, can enable us to behold and trust Him. For the ones and twos who wonder at the wisdom of such a column there are the hundreds who are being helped and who wait eagerly each week for this little word of inspiration. The Pulpiteer would feel his job well done if only one wayfaring soul received a little help along the pathway of life. Remember: The Saviour can solve every problem. And the tangles of life can undo; There's nothing too hard for Jesus. And nothing that He cannot do.

CHILD STRUCK AT ISLAND GROVE

Gary Bowers, 9, Georgetown, was struck by a car driven by Ernest E. Arnold, Toronto, as he came out of Payne's store at Island Grove last Sunday. At this point on the lakeshore road there is congestion on a busy day due to a car parking lot being on one side. Cars park outside their allotted space, near the store and near the government dock entrance. Fortunately the boy was not seriously injured as Arnold's automobile was travelling slowly. His injuries included a couple of loosened teeth and a cut on his head. Mr. and Mrs. Bowers took their son home after Constable Grant Thompson had investigated and found the driver of the car was not to blame.

C.N.I.B. Director Special Speaker At Women's Association

David Lawley, National Field Director, Canadian National Institute for the Blind was the guest speaker at the April 2 meeting of the Women's Association, Trinity United church, Newmarket. Mrs. M. B. Seldon presided.

Mrs. Elman Campbell was in charge of the program and conducted the devotional program. Mrs. Campbell introduced Mr. Lawley. The guest speaker told of his organization of the blind services in Trinidad under the British government.

Mr. Lawley who lost his sight in 1913 had come to Canada from England the previous year. As a graduate mining engineer, Mr. Lawley was employed in a mine in British Columbia and it was in an accident at the mine that Mr. Lawley lost his sight.

Returning to England, Mr. Lawley worked for the National Institute for the Blind and came to Canada once again in 1927 where he has worked with the CNIB. In the absence of Mr. McGill who is in Egypt under the UN to organize the blind services, Mr. Lawley is acting secretary for the CNIB in Ontario. In his talk, Mr. Lawley combined his Quaker background with a delightful sense of humour to present a most interesting ad-

Letters to the editor are always welcome but the names of the writers must be known to the editor.

Dear Editor: I asked a boy if he would join the King City Wrestling club. He replied that his mother would not let him. She is right if she thinks that our training is aimed at the standard of professional wrestling or any modification of it. Let me hasten to explain to those sharing the above belief, that an amateur wrestling club participates in a sport entirely different in methods and sportsmanship than professional wrestling.

It is only natural for a boy to want to develop himself physically and to be able to hold his own and compete with his fellows. This should be encouraged in the proper direction by a competent coach in a gym. In a wrestling club one learns by progressive exercises to endure unusual strains. No dangerous manoeuvres or holds are taught. With practise he learns to think what he is doing and a very important feature is that he gains emotional control of himself, learns to respect his opponents and benefits by better sportsmanship and manners. With a better developed body he has more confidence in himself; that helps him in other lines of endeavor, dangerous as other rugged sports. That is proved by the fact that since the King City Wrestling club started four years ago there has not been an accident. Mothers should take advantage of the opportunity of encouraging their sons to join the King City Wrestling club. Bob McLeod, Coach, King City Wrestling Club.

LADIES NAME OFFICERS

Kewick ladies softball club has beat the other district softball crews to the punch in organizing for the 1953 season. The election of officers for the coming season was held recently. Gord Hare was returned as coach and his running mate, Jack Munday, was re-engaged as manager. Grace Curtis was named club president and Ruth Mary Peters, secretary-treasurer. The genial secretary reports everybody is on the hunt for a snappy name for the team. Any suggestions? Send them along to the coach. Here's ours: "The Lake Shore Mermaids". (Ed. note.)

Proceeds from the concert will be used to renovate and re-decorate the Newmarket Scout hall, the meeting place for all groups in scouting and guiding in the community. The artists who are appearing in the concert under the auspices of the Scout-Guide Mothers' auxiliary are Isha Goodman, Elizabeth Beer and Terry Doane. Convening the ticket-sale blitz is Mrs. C. E. Wheeland. She is assisted by Mrs. Bert Budd and Mrs. H. A. Jackson. Mrs. Alex Georgas is convening the concert.

HOUSE-TO-HOUSE TICKET SALES FOR CONCERT ON MAY 8

A house-to-house ticket blitz will be conducted on Friday, April 17, in the Newmarket district under the auspices of the Scout-Guide Mothers' auxiliary. Boys and girls, members of the Newmarket Cubs, Scouts, Guides and Brownies, will call at homes in Newmarket to sell tickets for the concert being held in Trinity United church on Friday, May 8.

Proceeds from the concert will be used to renovate and re-decorate the Newmarket Scout hall, the meeting place for all groups in scouting and guiding in the community. The artists who are appearing in the concert under the auspices of the Scout-Guide Mothers' auxiliary are Isha Goodman, Elizabeth Beer and Terry Doane.

TENNIS MEETING APRIL 14

Here's glad tidings for all the tennis racket wielders. Keith Davis, North York's "Mr. Tennis", comes through with the information that the organization meeting of the Newmarket Tennis club for the 1953 season will be held at the club courts at 7 p.m., Tuesday, April 14. In the event of rain Tuesday, the meeting will be held over to Thursday, April 16, at the same hour.

Top on the agenda at the Tuesday meeting will be the election of officers for the 1953 season. Everybody interested in tennis or becoming a tennis player is asked to attend. Club officials hope for a big turn-out to get the 53 season away to a flying start.

HOSPITAL TEA

NEXT WEDNESDAY

Wednesday, April 15, is the date set by the York County hospital Women's auxiliary for a spring tea and bake sale. The place is the Firehall auditorium and tea will be served from 3 to 5:30 p.m.

Mrs. Frank Courtney is tea convener. The bake sale is under the direction of Mrs. W. R. Ballard and Mrs. R. Hilliard and Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards will convene a bazaar table featuring children's clothing and toys. The draw for the doll dressed by Mrs. E. Dobbie which has been on display in local stores will be held at this time.

IN MEMORIAM

BECKETT — In loving memory of our dear father, Alfred Beckett, who passed away April 6, 1952.

We often sit and think of you, And think of how you died; To think you could not say goodbye, Before you closed your eyes. The pain was hard, the shock severe. We never thought your death so near. But only those who have lost can tell.

the pain of parting with our loved ones. Sadly missed by son Wilburn and daughter-in-law Irene and grandchildren Betty, Ronald, Bruce and Ruth.

BLIGHT — In ever loving memory of our dear son and brother, W. O. W. Gerald Blight and his pals who lost their lives April 14, 1943, over enemy territory. They would not want the one they love.

To grieve for them today; We must not say that they are dead. For they are just away. Away upon a journey to a land that's bright and fair, Where there's no pain or sorrow and they are happy there. And memory of their love will bring Sweet comfort every day. As we recall they are not dead, They only are away. So sadly missed, Mom Dad, Grant and Lois.

DEAVITT — In loving memory of our dear parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Deavitt, who died March 31, 1951, and April 13, 1951. A silent thought, a secret tear Keeps their memory ever dear; Time takes away the edge of grief. But memory turns back every leaf. Ever remembered by daughter Hazel, son-in-law Fred, and granddaughters Dorothy, Shirley and Audrey.

DEAVITT — In loving memory of our very dear mother, Ida Mae Deavitt, who passed away April 13, 1951. Peaceful be thy rest, dear Mother. It is sweet to breathe thy name. In life we loved you dearly. In death we do the same. Always remembered, Percy, Betty and Sharon Anne.

SAWFORD — In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, George Sawford, who passed away April 12, 1947. Time changes many things, But love and memory ever clings. Ever remembered by wife, daughter Flossie, son-in-law Allan and family.

YORKE — In loving memory of our very dear grandson, Garfield Yorke, who passed away April 8, 1952. Our memories of Garfield are a keepsake. With which we will never part. And while God has him in his keeping, We still can treasure every smile, Each tender word and look; And keep them as a rose is pressed.

In memories treasured book. So we will be brave dear Garfield, And pray to God each day; And when he calls us home to you, Your smile will guide the way. Longed for always and ever remembered by grandma and grandad Rye and auntie Marlene.

YORKE — In loving memory of our dear son, Garfield, who passed away April 8, 1952, in his 3rd year. Dear God please take a message To a loved one up above; Tell him how we miss him. And give him all our love. Please God, forgive a silent tear, A longing wish for someone dear; There are others in this world we know But he was ours and we loved him so. It is not at the time the tears are shed That tell of a heart that is torn But the lonely tears of after years, And remembrance silently borne. Surrounded by friends we are lonesome, In the midst of our joys we are blue. With a smile on our face our hearts are broken. Longing dear Garfield for you. Too dearly loved to ever be forgotten. Mummy and Daddy.

Officers Elected For Holstein Breeders' Club

The fourth annual meeting of the Toronto District Holstein Breeders' club was held on March 9 at its head office, one mile west of Maple.

Secretary-treasurer, Wilbert Jennings, gave a fine report, stating that the financial condition of the club was good, showing a healthy bank balance. The president's remarks were confined to past improvements and suggestions for improvements in the future.

Manager, Dr. C. R. Reeds, in his report, reviewed the past year, mentioning that 16 box stalls had been added in 1952 and more would have to be added again in the near future. The battery of bulls was increased during 1952. At the end of the year, there were in service 15 Holstein bulls, three dual purpose Shorthorns, three Scotch Shorthorns, three Herefords, three Jersey, two Guernsey and one Angus.

During 1952, some 25,914 cows were inseminated, showing an increase of 50 percent over 1951. The officers elected for the coming year were: hon. pres., Archie Cameron; president, Stewart Chapman; vice-pres., Ray Clarkson; sec.-treas., Wilbert Jennings; directors, D. Wellesley, C. Henshaw and S. Ruthford; secretary-manager, Dr. C. R. Reeds.

To Receive Gold Cord Certificate From Lt. Governor's Wife

Mrs. Louis Breithaupt, wife of the Lieutenant Governor of Ontario, has sent out invitations to members of the Canadian Girl Guides Association for Friday, April 10th, 1953. She will present certificates to 150 Guides who have earned Gold Cords during the past year.

This standing is the highest a Guide can achieve and must be completed before her seventeenth birthday. The ceremony will be held in the Lieutenant Governor's suite in the Parliament Buildings, Queen's Park, Toronto. These girls will come from every part of the province. Miss Shirley Wass, 1st Newmarket Girl Guide Company, who won her Gold Cord this year will be attending the ceremony to receive her certificate.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE ION

Monday night was the culmination of many hours of preparation for the finance committee of the town council when the deputy-revee, Herb Gladman, as chairman of that committee, presented the 1953 budget. The mill rate for the year was set at 64 mills.

Although this rate represents an increase of three mills over last year's, it is considerably better than many had thought possible when the original estimates of the various municipal departments were received. At that time the rate was over 70 mills.

In preparing the 1953 budget, an accurate report of the actual expenditures and receipts for 1952 are presented to the finance committee by the town clerk, Wesley Brooks. At about the same time, six to eight weeks before the budget meetings are to be called, the departments which make up the municipal government of the town are requested to present an estimate of their needs for the coming year.

In these departmental reports which are requested from the public school, separate school and high school boards; arena and recreation commissions; roads and bridges committee, police and fire committees, are listed both the estimated revenues and expenditures for the coming year. Sometimes, these costs are fixed, as in the rental of a building, fuel costs or grants.

Most frequently the members of the department concerned must determine what work they wish to accomplish in 1953, what monies they will bring into the town purse and, from these, with the addition of what they will request the tax payer to contribute, a balance is reached.

An identical situation could exist in a family where in the spring each member is asked to prepare a personal budget to present to the family comptroller. Each member on the credit side would list his earnings, balance or surplus from last year and on the debit side, would record all the necessities and luxuries he wanted for the coming year. To balance the gap between the one and the other, a sum of money from the family treasury would need to be added to his receipts.

There are a few families in such a financial position that they are able to do this. In most instances, it is a necessity to plan large expenditures and to space them. If one child wants and needs a complete spring outfit, the bicycle must wait. If one member of the family must undergo surgery, the purchase of the latest model car is postponed.

The same holds true when the sums of money involved are in the hundreds of thousands as managed by council rather than the smaller incomes of individual families. The finance committee must meet and consider each item on the prepared statements. To be able to do all that each department has planned, it would require a raise in the mill rate to over 70 mills. In view of that situation, are certain expenses warranted? The figures are studied. A few hundred dollars are slashed from one amount. Two thousand is taken from another.

On closer observation, it might be felt that the estimate of expected revenues has been too optimistic. It must be lowered. And through many meetings, the finance committee gradually brings the budget within the realm of possibility.

The recommendations are returned to the departments. Perhaps, as happened in this budget, they find that it is necessary to increase the amount allotted for protection to persons and property by approximately $4,000, the equivalent of one mill, or education by the same amount. Then something else must be cut a corresponding amount or, where this is impossible, an increase in the mill rate results.

No council wants to present a budget which will necessitate a great increase in the mill rate over the previous year. Perhaps this is the Achilles heel for councils. In their reluctance to present an unpopular budget, they may neglect necessary and essential work.

There are many examples of such lack of foresight. Such an instance was when the roads and sidewalks were allowed to deteriorate. The failure to make the timely repairs, to admit that such work was necessary has made the task of succeeding councils more difficult.

It is no easy decision for any group of citizens to make when they, acting as the council, speak for all the taxpayers of the community. Only by accepting their responsibilities, not only to the present, but to the future of the town can any council feel that it is fulfilling its duty.

CONFIRMATION

Confirmation will be conducted at St. Paul's Anglican church, Newmarket, on Thursday, April 10, at 8 p.m., by the Right Rev. A. B. Beverley, M.A., D.D., Bishop of Toronto.

There will be the dedication of the complete set of dorsal curtains, frontals and book marks. These hangings which mark the seasons of the church year were made by members of the Chancel Guild. Following the service, a reception will be held in the parish hall.

HASHMAN AWARD
Waller For Coaching
 Probably the best record of any team in the North York Minor Hockey leagues was that compiled by Newmarket Optimist midgets. Over the regular season and playoff campaigning they won 25 games and lost one. Quite a record don't you agree? Of course with that record they breezed home as North York Midget Hockey league champions. So congratulations are extended to the team, coach Lowell Waller, manager Ken Stephens, transportation man Ken Russell and the sponsors, Newmarket Optimist Club.
 Your Hashman feels he can't let the occasion slide by without naming Lowell Waller as Hashman award winner and Roxy Theatre pass recipient. Lowell did a grand coaching job. The point that always struck us was that he didn't stand for any nonsense. He told his players what he wanted - they went out and did it - if they didn't, they heard about it. Another point Coach Waller stressed was the fact that they were a hockey team and must operate as a unit to win hockey games. The record of the Optimist midgets proves he got across his points.

Mount A. Wins First Final
 Kettleby and Mount Albert opened the two-game, goals-to-count, town league finals Tuesday. Judging from Tuesday's display, Kettleby have their work cut out for them if they plan to gather in the league crown. Mount Albert trimmed the Terry-Hodgson clan 7-2 Tuesday.
 There were two fisticuffing bouts Tuesday and the one led directly to the Kettleby fall. It was after a free skating first period in which both teams picked up a gift goal. Skip Taylor poked in the one for Mount on John Leary's pass.
 Don Marchant, with aid from Ralph Rose and Harry Lostchuk, matched it for Kettleby. Then came the first blow at 11:11 of the second period. By this time Mount led 2-1 on the strength of Ken Davie's goal, John Leary making the Davie effort possible with his goal mouth set-up pass.
 Like we said there was a big blow up, main participants were Combines' Harry Lostchuk and Mountie man Bill Brett. It was a real dandy and referee Harry Gibney sorted it 7 minutes for

Markham Defeats Sutton
 With approximately 900 Sutton-Newmarket and district faithful on deck to watch their demise, Ellis Pringle's Sutton Greenhirts dropped a 13-3 decision to Markham Eagles at the Newmarket arena Monday night. The loss meant the end of the Greenhirts' O.R.H.A. senior playoff ambitions as Markham copped the best of seven semi-final series four games to one.
 The Markies, boasting several of last year's Stouffville Clippers on their roster, had too much

NO LEAGUE GAME TONIGHT
 Tonight's Newmarket and District hockey league final between Mount Albert and Kettleby, scheduled for 8.30 at the arena, has had to be called off according to league proxy Ray Smith.
 Trouble developed after the initial game of the series Tuesday which Mount Albert won 7-2. Kettleby filed a protest Wednesday morning on Mount Albert's use of Horace Berwick during Tuesday's game. Kettleby wants Tuesday's game struck from the records and Mount Albert is just as sure it should stay. That's where the matter stands at the moment.
 With the rink due to close Saturday it begins to look like the town league's won't finish off their season and declare a winner. The executive will meet shortly to iron out the problem.

REGENTS KNOCKED OUT
 Newmarket Regents faded from the Newmarket and District play-downs and Mount Albert qualified to meet Kettleby in the league finals Tuesday when the Mounties racked up a 5-2 win over the Regents. Tuesday's game was the fifth and deciding game in the Regents-Mount semi-final set.
 Murray Edgar's men scored three first and two third period goals to oust the Regents.
 Ken Davie was the main Regent killer. Davie turned in a hat trick job and gained an assist on John Leary's Mountie start-off tally. Keith Dunn provided the Mounties' other scoring play, converting Swiftly Todd's pass into number five on the Mounties' list.
 Murray MacDonald gave the Towners their start. It was first goal of the game, in fact at 4:05 of the first period, Laurie Thoms and Normie Legge rating assists. Cliff Gunn hooked onto Deb Cooper's pass at the eight minute mark of the second period for the Towners' other tally.
 That goal sliced the Mount Albert edge to 3-2 but the Mounties had that extra oomph around the Bill Ingram guarded bastion in the final period to wrap up the decision.
 Towners put up quite a scrap before leaving. After trailing in the series 2-0 they came off the floor to tie it. Regents were coached by Father T. J. McCabe and Herb Cain; manager is Mel Stickwood.

Ditch Diggers Win Aurora League Crown
 Mickey Sutton's Ditch Diggers wound up a huge winning season when they defeated Victory Flyers 6-5 Thursday in the Aurora arena in the third game of the Aurora Town League finals. That win gave the Ditch Diggers the series in three straight and they now rule the roost as town league champions.
 Diggermen had to work a little harder than usual in this one to come out on top. Earl MacDonald was the Diggers' scoring pace setter with two goals. Diggers one-goal men were Tracy Barrager, Jim Greenslade, Ken Wright and Harold Stephenson.
 Bill Bennett marked up two goals to lead the Flyers' snipers. Arnie DeBoc, Ed Tidman and Dave Richardson completed the hard trying Flyers' scoring.

JUVENILES TONIGHT
 Arena doors will close Saturday night for the hockey-skating season. Tonight (Thursday) the second game in the best of three series for the North York Juvenile Hockey league title between Newmarket Specialties and Richmond Hill Rose Kings will hold the stage. Game time is 8 p.m. Newmarket won game one and needs a victory tonight to claim the crown. The arena program will close with public skating Friday and Saturday evenings.

Down The Centre by Ab Hulse
 In retrospect: 25 years ago, Newmarket Intermediates went to the semi-finals of the O.H.A. intermediate series being defeated by Kitchener 6-5 on the round, in a three game series, the third game being played at Galt. Port Colborne subsequently bested Kitchener.
 Can't recall the whole team but if we remember, it included Fred Thompson, Shorty Turan, Bill Epworth, Dick Hugo, Son Townsley, Chuck Thoms, Reg Corbett, Lunc Murray, Lou Bovair, among others. The same year Newmarket juniors reached the O.H.A. finals, losing out to Marlborough 4-3 on the round. The Redmen had Doc Ames, Scrooge Perrault, Ellis Pringle, Bill Thoms, Doug Marshall, Fred Murray, Lynn Waller, Dodger Collings, Bruce Trivett and Babe Teasdale on the line-up.
 Twenty years ago this week the folks in Canaltown were celebrating the winning of the Eastern Junior championship taking Ottawa Shamrocks and having a close series won over Montreal Royals. On April 12, 1933 the Redmen won the Memorial Cup in the concluding game with Regina Pats. The names of the winners are still inscribed in the memory corner: Ran Fordor, Sparky Vall, Silver Doran, Normie Mann, Pep Kelly, Howie Peterson, Red McArthur, Chief Huggins, Don Willson, Gar Preston, Mac Ogilvie and Aub Marshall.
 What a celebration!
 Fifteen years ago, Aurora juniors lost out to Orangeville in the junior "C" finals at Maple Leaf Gardens, a series they might have won. Charlie Rowntree had Pat James, Turk Ferguson, Scotty Mair, Bill Wilson, Wib Preston, Shorty Graham, Joint McComb, Shorty Wrightman, Mutt Collings, Joe McGhee and Joe Tunney.
 Ten years ago, Aurora Army took the Intermediate A championship with a team that was really packed: Bobby Lynn, Joint McComb, George Rothwell, Herb Farley, Jack Stafford, Bert Turney, Ed Malcheske, Jack Culverwell, Al Shill, Gordy Shill, Gordy DeLaat, Bunny Glover, Hal Mooney, Briggs Creighton,

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN
 by Elmer Ferguson

It was 20 years ago, around two o'clock on the morning of April 4, 1933, that the smallest player in modern National Hockey League history, darted past the big defensive out-posts, and whistled home the goal that ended the longest game played in organized hockey up to that time—a 1-0 victory for Toronto Leafs, over Boston Bruins in a Stanley Cup play-down series final, after 106 minutes, 46 seconds of extra time, with the sixth overtime period underway.

There has since been no longer game, the epic 1-0 battle between Montreal Maroons and Detroit Red Wings, that lasted until 2:25 o'clock on the morning of March 25, 1936, when the teams battled 116 minutes 30 seconds of overtime before the Red Wings won. But for sheer drama, for a story-book finish that no Hollywood script writer could excel, that long 1933 struggle packed the most spine-tingling finish of any such marathon duel, in any sport.

For tiny Doraty, who stood little more than 5 feet 6 inches in height, carried only 132 pounds on his diminutive frame, the smallest player in the league, was the pygmy who broke up the battle.

Dozens of scoring thrusts had failed to pierce the armour of Tiny Thompson in the Boston nets, and dozens more had been foiled by Lorne Chabot, Toronto custodian, when Andy Blair teamed with the tiny Doraty to post the game's only goal.

The sixth overtime period had started when Blair was sent to pay special attention to the great Eddie Shore, pivot of the Bruin offensive corps. The former University of Manitoba star checked the great defenceman twice as he tried to break away. On his third attempt Shore batted the puck ahead of him—right on Blair's stick.

In two long strides Andy crossed the blue-line into Bruin territory. He sidestepped Eddie Shore, and as the Boston rear-guard swung around to jab at the puck, Blair shot it ahead to Doraty, streaking for the net. The winger nailed it in his stride and skated in on Thompson to fire into a corner of the net.

Varied proposals to end the game after 100 minutes overtime had been played failed. The players were so tired and attacks lacked steam to a degree when President Frank Calder of the N.H.L. asked managers Art Ross of Boston and Conn Smythe of Toronto to flip a coin and decide the issue. Both refused. Then Calder suggested the goal-tenders be taken out of the game to facilitate scoring the winning goal. The managers couldn't see that idea.

"To a finish" was finally ruled. And the finish came with dramatic impact just four minutes and 46 seconds after resumption of play.

Your comments and suggestions for this column will be welcomed by Elmer Ferguson, c/o Calvert House, 431 Yonge St., Toronto.

DISCRIMINATION

When the Aurora Banner went off on another of its promotional stunts and claimed that the chicken business had become the leading industry in Aurora and district, we corrected that false impression. Mr. John Sisman, vice-president of the Sisman Shoe company, followed on by an address to the Aurora Rotary club in which he gave facts and figures which proved how necessary our correction of the Banner was.

We were not belittling the chicken industry. All we were doing was to try and maintain a sense of proportion in relation to Aurora industries. The danger of discriminating in favor of any one particular industry is that it presents a probable erroneous picture of the economic life of the community concerned. Consequently more damage than good is likely to result from such promotional adventures.

Some years ago when we undertook the agreeable task of writing up the industries in Aurora we took care to include the smaller as well as the major industries, thus preserving a balanced picture of the economic life of our community. We carried out the same rule in our later series, "Know Your Local Merchants". We took care not to single out any particular industry or merchant for special or promotional mention.

For example: There are three well-known druggists in Aurora, J. F. Willis, John Morning and O. D. Hess. To each of them we gave equal space and equal publicity in our write-ups, the emphasis being on biographical data and carefully avoiding promotional discrimination. Not in a single write-up of any one of our industries or merchants has any complaint been made that we favored one as against another.

In short, the policy of this newspaper is to support all our industries and merchants, not to discriminate here and there for advertising or other reasons.

PRAISE OR PERISH!

Last week we remarked that the prestige of a town council is no higher than the mental calibre of those who compose it. We have to hand one thing to Reeve Cook: He has often changed his mind, but not in regard to Aurora News Page. He has been hostile to it from the start. A year ago he voted that it should get no town printing and he voted the same way on March 16.

But what about Deputy-Reeve Murray? It was he who said a year ago that our paper should have equality with the Banner. On March 16 he was the mover of the motion that outlawed our newspaper. He did not even wait to ask how much town printing our newspaper had had. Nor did any other member of council ask for that information. It appeared that the deputy-revee and reeve were determined to "kill" our newspaper if they could.

This attitude suggests to us the type of advertiser who threatens to cut off his support unless he receives a plug. Such requests are fewer than they used to be. But there was a time when advertisers buying large amounts of space in newspapers assumed that they had a right to some favorable notice. We wonder if the reeve and deputy-revee would have been so anxious to "blot us out" if we had found good reasons to praise them in our newspaper?

Generally speaking, we think their work as municipal representatives has been of a poor standard and we have not hesitated to say so. Our opinions cannot be bought or influenced by a bit of printing work. We are not prepared to "damage", much less "sabotage" the town by saying that the work of certain municipal representatives is good if we know it isn't.

PLEASING EVERYBODY

Pleasing everybody is impossible. He is a foolish man who tries to do so. Worse than that, he is a knave, for in order to try and please everybody a man must have a new face for all whom he contacts. To some he must say "yes" and to others "no", whichever way the wind blows. When such a double-cross creature lies down to sleep he must often wonder what he is going to look like in his dreams!

There isn't a preacher in Aurora who pleases all the members of his congregation. There isn't a preacher anywhere in the whole world who pleases all the members of his flock. Any one of them is fortunate if he pleases the majority. Where Christ failed it is hardly likely that His disciples should succeed. Indeed, His mission caused so much uproar in the short period of three years that His enemies crucified Him.

The easy and the safe way is, of course, to express no opinions at all. "I keep what I think to myself," said a man to us. What he meant was, that he did not voice his opinions beyond the hearing of his friends. He plays safe. He reminded us of the tortoise that moves slowly and with infinite care and pulls its head in at the slightest sound of danger.

There is, of course, a certain kind of merit in such studied reticence. But it is the sort of merit enjoyed by a mummy. While one is alive and breathing it must be hard to resemble a mummy. And had he but known it, even the man who kept his opinions to himself did not please everybody. For somebody said of him that "you don't know what so-and-so is thinking, for he never opens his mouth. He's just a deadpan."

Pleasing everybody doesn't matter. Good controversy and intelligent action: and out of both should come progress.

CNR Requests Guarantee But Fails To Get Majority: Dog Control Amended By-law

A regular meeting of the town council was held on Monday night, April 6, when the mayor presided and, following the late arrivals of the reeve and deputy-revee, all members were present. A highlight of the proceedings was a discussion on the steam-train centennial which had an astonishing sequel.

After the presentation of the minutes, accounts and correspondence, Mr. H. Seston, president of the board of trade, submitted a number of proposals in connection with Coronation celebrations. He informed council that the ministerial association preferred an indoor rather than an out-of-door service for the reason that a greater solemnity could be preserved. It was intended to hold the service in the High school auditorium.

Some members of council, including Councillor D. J. Murray, stated their views in favor of a drumhead service. Councillor Davidson said that it might be difficult to accommodate everybody in the auditorium if all town organizations were present.

Councillor Davis said if it were the wish of the ministerial association to hold an indoor service it was not for council to question their decision, and Mr. Seston said the association was definite on their decision.

Concerning the decoration proposals, president Seston suggested that council make a grant of $250 to the board of trade in connection therewith. This gave rise to some discussion with Councillor D. J. Murray commenting that it seemed that the board of trade was seeking a grant with the work being done by town employees.

Councillor Moffat asked Mr. Seston if he did not think the board of trade should assume some of the cost of the decorations from the funds they had on hand, to which he replied that the board had not thought of that.

Mrs. Moffat said she saw no reason why the board of trade should not help, adding humorously that she was "Scotch by nature", to which Mr. Seston retorted that he was "Jewish by nature". He further stated that the board of trade was offering council its help.

After further discussion the request of the board of trade for a $250 grant was approved.

Mr. R. H. Corner and Mr. C. Adair appeared with reports on the work of the Parks board. Mr. Adair, secretary to the board, gave a detailed resume of the work carried out last year together with future proposals concerned with the planting of trees and general caretaking of parks and playgrounds.

Mr. Corner, chairman of the board, further reviewed the work that had been carried and suggested that council might make a similar grant to the board as for the year 1952. This was agreed to and council's congratulations were offered to the board for their past work.

Dr. Boulding and Mr. A. Closs appeared before council to suggest that in appreciation of the excellent showing of the junior "C" hockey team a grant of $300 should be made for the purchase of windbreakers for some 20 members of the team. Dr. Boulding reminded council that the team had brought a revenue to the rink during the season of $2,000.

When the matter was brought up at the new business stage Councillor D. J. Murray commented at some length on what he described as the neglect of the "higher-ups" to support their local hockey teams. He said that the "higher-ups" could help local hockey by their attendance at games.

On a motion by Councillor Murray, seconded by Councillor Davidson, the grant asked for to be spent on windbreakers was approved.

Following a committee report by Councillor Jones, in which he stated that a good meeting had been held among town organizations in connection with the steam-train centennial, a prolonged discussion took place.

Outlining a proposal which he said emanated from the directors of the C.N.R., the mayor said it was suggested that a special train might be run from Toronto to Aurora twenty minutes ahead of the centennial train, carrying an estimated 1,400 passengers for the celebration events.

The mayor said it was suggested that the town make a grant of $180 to the C.N.R., but that it would be returned in full when

THE STOOGES

Our readers may or may not have noticed the fine progress recorded by the Era and Express. In either case it is our pleasure to draw attention to it, being quite naturally proud of the increasing support given by readers to the newspaper we represent. A man who does not take pride in his newspaper should not be working for it.

For many reasons we take pride in our association with the Era and Express. Two or three of these reasons we shall shortly state. For the moment we draw attention to the new figures appearing on the right hand corner of the front page, under the title, "Circulation". At the end of September, 1952, the paid-up number of copies was 3,953. At the end of December, 1952, these figures had risen to 4,036.

Some readers may not quickly realize what we mean by "paid-up copies". The figures mean that 4,036 readers have paid for their copies of the Era and Express and that this is a GUARANTEED circulation. The regular weekly printing of the Era and Express has now risen to the all-high figure of 4,550.

During the two years that we have been associated with the Era and Express its paid-up circulation has increased nearly 800 copies weekly. We are

News Of The W.I.

News for this column must be in the office Monday night. Copy must be written as briefly as possible and confined to news and reports. Other than routine reports and announcements will be printed separately.

Lakeside branch, now officially known as Keswick W.I., held a successful family night which was very well attended and enjoyed by all. A delicious supper was served by the ladies. Mrs. R. Serrick offered a prayer of condolence for the Royal family.

Miss Dorothy Rye entertained with music and little Mary Lou Marshall gave a recitation. Mr. A. Pollock showed some educational and entertaining pictures.

A business meeting was called for Monday, March 30. This was held at the home of the president, Mrs. A. Pollock. Ten dollars was voted to the St. John's Ambulance Society.

Belhaven branch will meet in the hall Tuesday, April 14. The motto, "Always look for the sunlight the Lord sends into your day," will be answered by Mrs. F. Stephens.

Roll call is "This idea saved me money." The program and lunch is to be provided by the ladies of the contest under the leadership of Mrs. Erwin Winch.

Belhaven branch celebrated its 25th anniversary on Friday, Mar. 20, with a family banquet served at 7 p.m., followed by a brief program.

The tables were beautifully decorated with daffodils and pussy willows and the head table was centered with a three-tier cake. Highlight of the dinner was the cutting of the cake by the first president, of 25 years ago, Mrs. C. Prosser. Mrs. Wilbert Anderson, this year's president, acted as toast mistress for the evening.

The first toast to the Institute was proposed by Mr. Erwin Winch and Mrs. Ormsby Smith replied. The second toast, to the gentlemen, was proposed by Mrs. Erwin Winch and Mr. Bernard Davidson replied.

The last toast, to the Queen, completed the banquet. The guests adjourned to the upper hall where all joined in a short sing-song with Mrs. Don Morton at the piano. Reeve Elton Armstrong, King township, spoke briefly. Mrs. L. B. Pollock, district president, spoke. She said that she had been one of the charter members when this branch had been formed 25 years ago and from which five other new branches have been organized.

Mrs. Elton Armstrong, guest speaker, delivered a most informative address on education and citizenship. Miss A. Lewis had planned to be present to show pictures on "Historical Spots in Ontario" but was unable to attend through illness.

President Mrs. Anderson thanked the members for their help and co-operation in making

KING

To Dedicate Chimes

Rt. Rev. G. A. Wells, a bishop sanctioned by council, in the Toronto diocese, will come to King City on Sunday, April 12, to perform the dedication of the chimes which were installed at All Saint's Anglican church by Stanley Watson last fall.

The gift is a memorial to his brother, the late Charles Watson, who died a few years ago. A special message will be delivered by the bishop and afterward a social hour will be held.

Royal Theatre

While we were very sorry to see Frank Haylett leave the management of the Royal theatre, we were glad for the reason which brought about his departure, namely, a promotion. He is now the manager of the Odeon Humber theatre, a large and modern movie-house in the west end of Toronto. We understand it has a seating capacity of 1,300 and a staff numbering about 28.

Before coming to Aurora Mr. Haylett was assistant manager at the Hyland theatre on Yonge and St. Clair, a luxurious and spacious home of first-class entertainment. He was popular there and during the short time he has been in Aurora he has been well-liked. He told us how sorry he was to leave friendly Aurora, but he could not turn down what is a really first-class promotion.

It is apparent that the Odeon management will provide every opportunity to its staff for advancement in its large chain of theatres. Its public relations are of a high standard and, as we recently mentioned, it pays great attention to the important matter of courtesy on the part of its staff towards its patrons. In Frank Haylett the Odeon has a capable, efficient and loyal manager, and we wish him all future success.

New Manager

Mr. Manning I. Shore has temporarily replaced Mr. Haylett at the Royal. After a lengthy and successful career in theatre management, he recently joined the Odeon chain of theatres. After our meeting with him we are sure that Aurora and district patrons will receive very friendly welcomes to the Royal, where packed houses testify to the quality of pictures recently exhibited. This newspaper gives Mr. Shore a hearty welcome to Aurora.

The Garden Calls!

The garden soil, we found, is still too wet and too heavy for an early chore of sowing and planting. Year by year we have to battle against the urge to get going early and good. There is little sense in it, however, for until the earth is warm there can be little growth. However, it is three weeks ago since the crocuses in John Hudson's front-window plot were in bud and a week ago Chet Osborne was telling us he was all set for potato planting. But well try and stay put for two or three weeks yet.

By the way, if anyone is looking for a free garden patch measuring some 60 feet he could contact Councillor Dale King on Catherine St. Dale was telling us that he won't have time this year to work his garden and if we knew of anyone who would like to make use of his land he would be glad to let a suitable applicant in on it.

Residents Opposed To King Plant Location, Construction Started

Preliminary work was started this week on a $100,000 potato chip factory at the south end of King City. Workmen started Tuesday morning on excavation between Keele St. south and the C.N.R. railway tracks.

On Monday a delegation of King City property owners attended a meeting of the King township council and presented a petition asking for immediate protection against indiscriminate location of industry in residential areas in the village. It was signed by 107.

Residents asked that the council take immediate action. They had presented the same petition last week to the trustees of the village who refused to submit the petition to King township council. It was signed by 59 residents.

After the delegation had left the meeting, correspondence was read by the clerk and a letter was read from the department of planning and development which indicated that approval had been given to a by-law application to define the entire township as a planned area under the planning act.

Lorne C. Lee, Aurora barrister, who represented the 107 petitioners at the council meeting, stressed the need for zoning in the village of King City. Mr. Lee urged that township officials contact the owner, Stanley Watson, to take another location in the village or in the township. "He is a reasonable man," said Mr. Lee.

The strongest opposition is from residents who have left their homes in Toronto to find a quiet residential spot to build new homes. "We want to avoid factories in residential sections," they say.

"There has been no decision by village trustees on the petition," said Mr. Lee. The chairman of the board should have cast the deciding vote.

He told council that if Mr. Watson were properly approached by township officials, he might change his mind and find another suitable location in the village, not so close to homes.

Reeve Armstrong said that council acts according to the decisions made by the trustees of a police village. Mr. Lee said that the trustees had not properly dealt with the petition. There was a tie vote on the petition last week, one trustee favoring the petition, one opposed and one not voting.

"There is no restriction by-law. Anyone can build anywhere," said Mr. Lee. He said that residents were not opposed to industry but wanted it in suitable locations.

"What will a factory mean to the village water supply?" he asked. "Will residents be deprived because of an industrial use of town water? Another serious question is where the effluent will go from factories. What sewage facilities are

Chemical Vs. Tillage For Pasture Renovation

The use of chemicals to reduce the need for extensive tillage in preparing a seedbed is an effective new method of pasture renovation, according to M. A. Sprague of the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station.

It involves replacement of a great deal of tractor power and unconventional equipment with chemical energy applied in one trip and a few tillage operations with conventional implements.

The principles of good seedbed preparation remain the same, destroying established unwanted plants, providing a firm smooth seedbed, and in addition leaving an evenly distributed trash mulch on the surface.

The new method has some advantages over the conventional one of numerous diskings. A more complete kill of the old grass sod can be accomplished and more than likely the seeding of adapted species will last longer. Steeper more inaccessible slopes and rough stony fields are available where extensive tillage is difficult or hazardous.

Light tillage implements can be used more effectively on a dead sod than on a live one with a lower power requirement. This means more speed with lighter implements such as the spring-tooth harrow in place of the heavy cut-away disks or tool-bar implements. Smaller clumps of sod are turned which fall apart and crumble easily, forming a more uniform seedbed.

Band seeding in the dead sod without previous tillage is a promising possibility as a method of "getting the job done" with the least possible immediate outlay of money.

Start in the spring by choosing an area which is being neglected and which has pasture potential. Test the soil and meet the lime needs as soon as possible. Graze continuously and heavily throughout the spring and early summer. Clip once if necessary in June.

Spray the pasture sod July 15 to 20 with 25 pounds active acid sodium trichloroacetate (TCA) in 10 or 20 gallons of water mixed with one quarter percent of wetting agent and one half pound 2-4-D per acre.

Apply fertilizer prior to the last week of August in accordance with recommendations based on soil tests. Cultivate, once up and down the slope and once across the slope with a conventional tandem disk harrow, spring-tooth harrow or similar tillage implement during the last week of August (30 to 35 days after spraying) and follow with a smoothing harrow the last time over field.

Sow a recommended pasture grass and legume. Use plenty of mixture containing an adapted high quality seed, approximately 10 per cent more than generally recommended on a plowed seedbed, band seed or apply broadcast and roll with a cultipacker roller. Where recommended use up to one bushel of oats as a companion crop.

Delay grazing until the following spring after the new seeding is well established. This generally means start pasturing the first week of May when the grasses reach 8-10 inches high. Present costs of TCA treatment are somewhat below the old conventional tillage. Other chemicals may be found to reduce cost still further.

Duo Drive Plans Available To Farmers

For many operations involving the driving of small elevators, air compressors, certain types of fanning mills and feed mixers or cement mixers, a one-half h.p. motor is desirable. Frequently the farmer uses a smaller motor or a motor which does not have the ability to start a heavy load, and soon burns it out; yet he correctly feels that he cannot afford to have nearly $100 invested in a one-half h.p. motor (25 cycle, repulsion start) which is used only occasionally.

To help answer this problem, a circular has just been published by the Department of Physics, Ontario Agricultural College, which gives plans for a "Duo Drive". This device costs about $15 for materials and provides a simple, quick method for converting two similar one-quarter h.p. motors, costing about $27 each, into one one-half h.p. unit.

Although costing considerably less, this unit will do everything a standard one-half h.p. motor will do in the line of occasional jobs, and at the same time maintain the flexibility of two small, handy one-quarter h.p. motors for general shop use. These can be pulled from their regular jobs and mounted in the drive in a matter of seconds and easily carried from place to place by a grip cut in the motor mounting board.

This unit also is the basic framework for a bench saw, which is one of the most useful tools a farmer can own. The illustrations and latter section of the circular show how easy it is to convert it into a saw with a few extra parts. Once the saw kit has been made up, the change to a useful bench saw takes less than two minutes.

The "Duo Drive" is fully explained, with photos and diagrams, in Circular 165, and is obtainable now at the office of the agricultural representative.

When is tiredness NOT HEALTHY?

If you are really in top form it takes a lot to tire you. Yet some people are lagged out most of the time. They feel generally sluggish and below par from morning 'til night. If you ever get that way it's high time you learned what to do about it. Recognize for a start that a vaguely seedy sensation is due to a slowed-up system nine times out of ten. An ordinary laxative might help a bit but what you really need is the complete action of Kruschen. You see, Kruschen is made with the very same minerals as are found in some of the famous Spas. They stimulate lazy kidney action and help with ordinary constipation too. So they help in the complete clearing of accumulated body wastes and leave you in good shape to feel your very best. Try it. Just about as much Kruschen as you can keep on a dime dissolved in your morning beverage when needed is all that's called for. Buy a package today.

The entire evening so successful and voted a special thank you to Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong, to Mrs. J. Wilkinson who baked the cake and Mrs. W. Kydd for making place cards for everyone and to Mrs. O. Smith for the decorations.

The Queensville branch met on March 25 in the United church basement. Mrs. F. Weddel was in the chair and conducted the routine opening. Twenty members answered the roll call; 50 were present. The motto was explained by Mrs. Dike.

Mrs. Alyward reported that $139 had already been collected for the Red Cross. The following nominating committee was appointed: Mrs. S. Eves, Miss Cranley, Mrs. J. L. Smith, Mrs. Chapman and Mrs. Warren; $25 was given to the library and $5 was given to the Girls' club.

Mrs. Weddel welcomed the Sharon Institute. Mrs. F. Ramsay took the chair and the singing of "The More We Get Together" opened the program. Mrs. Joe Hall gave a reading. Mrs. Graham delivered a paper on the work of the Institute. Mrs. Donaldson and Mrs. Shaw sang a duet. A paper, "The Good Old Days", was given by Mrs. Crane.

Mrs. Weddel presented a demonstration on weaving a belt. After a reading by Mrs. Greig, Mrs. Donaldson and Mrs. Shaw sang another duet. Mrs. Boyd gave the current events talk. The program concluded with a sewing contest led by Mrs. Farr.

The March meeting of the Elm Grove branch was held on March 25 at Mrs. Elmer Hamilton's home. A collection was taken for the Mental Health Association of Canada. A donation was made to the Kinsmen's Crippled Children's fund.

Mrs. J. Munro, district director, gave a report on the district meeting held in Newmarket. Discussions about the D.A., to be held in Ravenshoe United church in May, were held, also about the A.C.W.W. (Associated County Women of the World), which is a convention of Women's Institute ladies from all over the world. This year it will be held in Toronto in the Maple Leaf Gardens the week of Aug. 21.

Mrs. Munro told us that we are urged to take more interest in York County hospital. We are also urged to have voting delegates at the area convention in the fall in Toronto.

Mrs. J. Munro was nominated for district convener for citizenship and education for 1953-54. Mrs. Yorke, convener of citizenship and education, took over the meeting. She gave an interesting address in which she said citizenship begins at home.

The Elmhurst Beach branch met at the home of Mrs. H. Boynton, Mrs. Lunn presiding. There were six grandmothers present, all taking part in the program. Mrs. F. Lockert read a beautiful poem in tribute to the late Dowager Queen and two minutes silence was observed.

Mrs. Selby Sedore gave a reading, "Grandparents Are Wanted", a very interesting topic. Grandmothers present sang several songs. Members planned on planting trees at the new school in memory of deceased members of the branch. Mrs. W. Lunn was re-elected as president; $50 for penny round-up was collected. A demonstration of an Easter salad was given by Mrs. L. Pollock.

The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Marve Clark. Refreshment committee: Mrs. Peters, Mrs. Bentham, Mrs. Wm. King.

The election of officers will be held at the next meeting of the Newmarket branch on Thursday, April 16, 2:30 p.m. in the Agricultural Board rooms, Botsford St. Members are reminded to pay their Blue Cross hospitalization at this meeting.

NORTH GWELL SPORTS DAY

A meeting has been called to arrange for the north Gwillimbury sports day which is to take place in July. The meeting is to be held in the memorial hall at Keswick on Wednesday evening April 15, at 8.30 o'clock. The general public is invited to attend and help with the planning.

should belong to the auxiliary. How about helping to talk them into it, comrades.

Aurora are Zone E2 Darts Champions. Newmarket came in for the runner-up trophy. Our team in the finals was Jack Fisher, Captain, Bill Ranger, Art Newman and Jim Fisher. They put up a good effort. We must mention our D team; they had not lost a game until they were beaten in the semi-finals by Aurora. That team was captained by Doug Campbell and consisted of Charlie MacLeod, Ron Bressington and Barry Kelley.

In the quarter-finals Barry threw a score of 148. There's nothing wrong with that. Let's go, fellows, we've got a lot of room for the first trophy of this year. The whole thing started with eight teams from Newmarket, five from Woodbridge and one from Aurora. You've got to hand it to the Aurora lone entry.

Zone elections last night left Harold Eaton as Zone Commander, Chic. Roney as Zone sports officer and Harold Sanderson as Zone secretary. That's a good showing for Branch 426. We must also mention thanks to Larry Needler for the handling of the bus on our Woodbridge trip.

Rev. Len Geary, Sutton, at the Anglican church, stressed the "common denominator of the Bible", as he sees it at work. He was in Cairo, Egypt, as secretary of the British Foreign Bible Society. At the Baptist church, Rev. J. L. Barkley of the Baptist Board of Evangelism, Ontario and Quebec Convention, gave an inspiring discourse on "God's Burden and Ours". He told of the Order of the Yoke. It is not an organization but witness to Christianity by voluntary discipline, adapted from the suggestions by a Quaker professor, Elton Trueblood of the U.S.

Rev. Dr. Angus McLeod, who was a missionary in Formosa for 43 years, commencing in 1907, told of the island of his adoption, where he had preached the length of the land. He left the Hebrides Islands, retiring from missionary work in 1949. Despite his 81 years, he would return to beautiful Formosa today to serve again as Pastor Lau, as he was known to the Formosans. He and Mrs. McLeod raised two native girls in their home.

Approve K.C.A. Request

Representing King Community Association, George Harvey was assured by K.C. village trustees that representation would be made to King township council for its approval of an option by the K.C.A. on a proposed community hall site on Patton St., as part of the Gillies subdivision.

Easter Celebrations

Easter Sunday services conducted in district churches were the source of inspirational messages by clergy. At Eversley and Strange Presbyterian churches, Rev. David Wotherspoon spoke. Communion was held at Eversley when 30 partook of the Lord's Supper. Presiding elders were D. M. Ross, Arthur Bovair and Scott Bovair. Spring flowers enhanced the scene in each church. The minister was attired in a handsome Geneva Gown, which was the recent gift of the congregations of Eversley, Strange and St. Paul's.

At King United church, the message was Life after Death, made possible by the Resurrection of our Lord. Easter lilies were given by Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Folliott, Mr. and Mrs. John Dew, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hall. Mrs. Arthur Green, Mr. and Mrs. James Patton gave baskets of colorful spring flowers.

Holy Communion was observed at the Anglican church in the morning, and Cadet Terry Fifth of the Church Army was at the evening service.

Bethel Baptist congregation heard a special message by Rev. W. E. Smalley and potted Easter lilies were the decoration. The interior of the church has been freshly decorated in pastel green.

Lasky United church held an abundance of lilies and baskets of spring flowers. The choir sang, "Crown Him Lord". On Friday evening, April 10, Lasky United S.S. and congregation will hold a social evening and films will be shown by Carl Boynton on Canadian Plowmen in the Old Country.

Your pullets need real growth if they are to be in tip-top shape next fall to produce LARGE EGGS EARLY, during the high price season, and keep on laying steadily.

To get that real growth the pullets must be fed a good balanced ration. It is not good enough to raise pullets just on pasture and grain. They will not lay as many eggs during the following year - nor will they produce large eggs as early as balanced-fed.

LEGION NEWS

Arrangements have been completed to bring Bobby Gimby and his orchestra in for the Coronation Dance on June 2. Gimby is, of course, well known from his experience with the Happy Gang as well as from working with his own band. We also hear that there will be quite a fireworks display that night.

Next Wednesday, April 15 is the next Bingo. Jack-pot is $25. See the ad under coming events.

Comrade Walt Groves and his maintenance committee certainly deserve credit for the work they have been able to accomplish to date. How about giving them a hand. There is a lot to do yet. The idea is to have the interior complete for the Coronation festivities.

Once again, speaking of Coronation Day, we are very happy to add that the town council committee consisting of Messrs. Herb Gladman, Eddie Wrightman and Bob McGuire are certainly pitching in on the co-operation on planning and arranging things for a big day.

We've said a lot about membership in the past but it was mostly about membership in the branch. Now we hear that the auxiliary is making a drive on membership. Let's support them. When you think of it, you have to agree that all members' wives

THORN—WEST

Mr. McKelvie, Toronto, officiated at a ceremony at the home of the bride's mother, on Saturday, Mar. 21, for the marriage of Glenna Elleen, daughter of Mrs. Irene West and the late Charles H. West, Newmarket, to William Thomas Thorn, Markham, son of Mrs. Thomas Thorn and the late Mr. Thomas Thorn, Belleville.

Given in marriage by her brother, Eric West, the bride was attired in a floor length gown of forget-me-not blue nylon net over taffeta with matching jacket of brocade taffeta. Her finger tip veil was held by wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of mauve chrysanthemums and white gladioli.

Miss Evelyn Stiver, Unionville, was her only attendant, dressed in a floor length gown of fuchsia nylon net and taffeta fashioned on similar lines and carried a nosegay of tallman roses and baby mums. Mr. Donald Lunau, Markham, was groomsmen.

The bride's mother received, dressed in rosewood crepe, with a corsage of white and pink carnations. For the wedding trip to the United States and Eastern Canada, the bride chose a hunter's green gabardine suit, with light beige topcoat and brown accessories. The couple will reside in Rouge Valley, Scarborough.

MOORHEAD—ROSE

Wedding bells and flowers covering an arch, formed the setting in the Free Methodist district parsonage, Newmarket, on Friday, March 21, for the marriage of Ruby Jane Alda Rose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carman Rose to Lloyd David Moorehead, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Moorehead.

lovely in a gown of brocade satin and lace with a bolero jacket of brocade, with long sleeves and points over the hands. Her fingertip veil was caught with a headdress of flowers.

Her attendant was her cousin, Miss Ruth Graves, who wore an ankle length gown of blue taffeta, with nylon net overskirt and bolero jacket and shoulder length veil. She carried a nosegay of flowers. Mr. John Lock was groomsmen.

At a reception held at the bride's home, the bride's mother received in blue crepe dress and pink accessories and matching corsage. The groom's mother assisted in a navy dress, navy accessories and matching corsage.

For travelling the bride chose a grey suit and navy accessories, shortie coat and white corsage.

ENTERTAIN BRIDE

Miss Glenna West was the guest of honor at several showers prior to her wedding. She became the bride of Mr. Thomas Thorn, Markham, on Saturday, March 21.

A miscellaneous shower was held on March 10, at the home of Mrs. Fough and Miss Donald Mitchell, a cup and saucer shower at the home of Mrs. Annie McComb, a kitchen shower by the office girls at Comstock in Toronto where Miss West works. Her fellow workers presented her with a beautiful tri-lite floor lamp, table lamp and a copper and aluminum kettle.

Anthropologists believe they have observed one of the processes by which farming was started in Western Australia where tribesmen who dig up yams, put part of the yam back in the hole.

BACKGROUND TO THE CORONATION

The Crown Jewels

(Treasures beyond price will be used during the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth II. Here is another article on the Background to the Coronation series, the writer describes the uses and symbolism of the Royal Regalia.)

By Dennis Bardsen

In the Wakefield Tower, a vaulted chamber of the Tower of London where Henry VI was imprisoned and murdered, are housed the Crown Jewels which will figure in the Coronation ceremony in June.

Visitors gaze spellbound at the lustrous gold orbs, the Royal Sceptre containing the largest cut diamond in the world and the fabulous Imperial State Crown which contains 2,763 diamonds, 277 pearls, 17 sapphires, 11 emeralds and 5 rubies.

These however are only a few of the items constituting the Royal Regalia, which include St. Edward's Staff, the Spoon and Ampulla, the Golden Spurs, the State Swords, the Orb, Ring, Sceptres and the Crowns.

Their value cannot be stated because obviously they would never be put up for sale, but certainly they are worth, intrinsically, many millions of dollars, a fine haul for a burglar, if he were rash enough to risk electrocution or decapitation, two penalties which, it is rumored, would have to be faced by a prospective thief.

The Crown Jewels have had their vicissitudes. Once the Regalia were housed in Westminster Abbey but bits and pieces had a habit of disappearing. Following an attempt to rob the Abbey in the reign of Henry III the jewels were removed to the Tower of London, the Impregnable stronghold by the River Thames, which took nearly 200 years to build (between 1078 and 1272).

Even at the Tower of London the jewels were still a temptation. An Irish adventurer, Colonel Blood, wheedled his way into the confidence of the assistant keeper, overpowered him with the help of two accomplices and nearly got away with the State Crown and Orb. The sequel was strange, for instead of being executed the thief was rewarded by King Charles II with a pension of £500 a year, a large sum in those days.

What was the catch? It is suspected that Charles II, being short of cash, had staged the robbery himself to get possession of the jewels and dared not allow Colonel Blood to be punished for fear he should turn resentful and tell the truth.

Most people assume that all the Regalia are of great antiquity. This, however is not the case. During the Commonwealth regime of Oliver Cromwell, from 1649 to 1660, the priceless relics which for six centuries had figured in the crowning of England's monarchs were broken down. On the restoration of the Monarchy in 1660 strenuous efforts were made to track down and re-assemble such pieces as had not been broken or defaced. A few gems were recovered undamaged, including the Black Prince's ruby and St. Edward's Sapphire, which adorn the Imperial Crown today.

The only pieces of the present Regalia which have featured in the crowning of English monarchs before 1660 are those two gems, Queen Elizabeth's pearl ear-drops and the Stuart Sapphire from the Crown of Charles II. The Spoon and Ampulla, which will be used in the Coronation ceremony for the solemn moment of anointing, date from the pre-reformation days.

The spoon has been used, it is thought, in Coronation ceremonies for nearly 800 years, for its workmanship is in the style of the late 13th or early 14th century. The Ampulla is a gold vessel shaped like an eagle, through whose beak the sacramental oil is poured into the spoon. The Archbishop of Canterbury will dip two fingers into this spoon and anoint the Sovereign with the sign of the Cross.

W.C.T.U. ANNUAL

The Newmarket Women's Christian Temperance Union held its annual meeting at the home of Mrs. A. Winn on April 1. Devotions were given by Mrs. F. Breckon, reading from St. Matthew 28 chapter, the first verses. The theme was: "He is not here; He is risen."

A World's Life Membership was presented to Mrs. A. Winn who has been president of the Newmarket Union for 20 years. (Note: "A World's Life Membership" costs $100 and the money is used for World Missions.)

The following officers were installed by Mrs. F. Breckon: past president, Mrs. A. Winn; president, Mrs. R. H. Beckett; first vice-pres., Mrs. W. E. Morton; second vice-pres., Mrs. L. E. Ewart; treasurer, Mrs. E. Bull; secretary, Miss L. Starr. Lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

The Golden Spurs, of solid chased gold, used to be buckled on to the Sovereign after the anointing, as an emblem of chivalry, but since the Coronation of Queen Anne it has been the custom of the Lord Great Chamberlain simply to touch the Sovereign's heels with them.

The four swords of State are among the most beautiful examples of workmanship in the world. Each sword has a separate symbolical significance. For instance the Jewelled Sword of State, which at State openings of Parliament is carried point upwards before the Sovereign, symbolizes office.

This sword was made for the Coronation of George IV in 1821 at a cost of £6,000. Its gold scabbard is covered with emblems of the United Kingdom: the Rose of England, the Thistle of Scotland, the Shamrock of Ireland, beautifully worked in rubies, diamonds and emeralds. The hilt and grip are thickly studded with diamonds and other gems.

The second and third swords represent spiritual and temporal justice and together with the Curtana, which has a broken-off point and symbolizes mercy, are carried in the ceremony before the Sovereign. It has been the custom to carry three swords of this type ever since the time of Richard I in 1189.

The Orb of State, delivered into the Queen's hands during the Coronation, represents independent sovereignty under the Cross. The Orb used today was made for King Charles II and consists of a globe of gold heavily encrusted with gems. The Archbishop, placing it in the Queen's right hand, will remind her of the significance of the cross surmounting it: "When you see this Orb . . . remember that the whole world is subject to the power and Empire of Christ our Redeemer."

When the Orb has been handed over, the Keeper of the Jewel House then hands the coronation Ring to the Archbishop, who slips it on to the third finger of the Sovereign's right hand.

Next comes the Sceptre, the "Ensign of Kingly Power and Justice," sometimes called the Baculum. As a symbol of sovereignty it is older than the Crown itself. As a work of art, it is of breathtaking beauty. Originally made for Charles II and since added to and improved, it is nearly three feet long and heavily studded with jewels, though the centre is of plain gold to form a grip. Its pear-shaped stone, the largest cut diamond in the world, weighs 518½ carats and was cut from the Cullinan diamond presented to King Edward VII by the Transvaal Government in 1907. The original diamond weighed 1½ pounds.

This lovely gem can be taken out, by means of a movable clasp, and worn by the Queen on special occasions.

The final act in the Coronation is the placing of King Edward's crown upon the Queen's head. It is so large and heavy, consisting of over 7 pounds in weight of pure gold and gems, that it is doubtful if the Queen will wear it for more than a few minutes before exchanging it for the lighter Imperial Crown of State. King George VI, with characteristic patience, suffered it for 30 minutes of the coronation service, though his father, King George V found a few minutes quite enough. King Edward VII, who was in a poor state of health at the time of his coronation, was actually crowned with the lighter version and did not wear the heavy Crown at all.

The great glowing ruby in the larger crown has a bloody and interesting history. Two inches by one and a half in size, in 1367 it was owned by a King of Granada in Spain who was murdered by a neighboring prince who wanted to possess the stone. In turn he gave it to the Black Prince, who wore it in battle. Later, it saw the tumult and slaughter of Agincourt when carried by Henry V, and the carnage of Bosworth field, when carried by Richard III.

When Richard was killed the crown was found in a bush. Cromwell's vandals, when breaking up the Crown Jewels, valued this fabulous gem at a mere £4. How it was recovered after the restoration of the Monarchy in 1660 it is not known, but even then its adventures were not at an end. For when Colonel Blood tried to steal the Crown Jewels the ruby fell from its setting and was found in the pocket of one of his accomplices.

The sapphire in the cross surmounting the Crown is said to have come from the ring worn by Edward the Confessor at his coronation in 1042, which would make it over 900 years old. It was buried with him in Westminster Abbey, lost when his tomb was desecrated and, in a mysterious way, found its way back to the Royal Regalia. Perhaps a priest who connived at its theft, and had hidden it, was later stricken with remorse and restored it to its proper place.

JACK SMITH WRITESOttawa Letter

A weekly letter from the member of parliament for York North.

A famous Canadian statesman of the Confederation era once said that "a wise nation preserves its records, gathers up its monuments, decorates the tombs of its illustrious dead, repairs its great public structures and fosters national pride and love of country by perpetual reference to the sacrifices and glories of the past."

As Canadians, we sometimes are criticized for our apparent lack of national spirit and our lack of appreciation for the historic significance of places and events. However, in the House this week another Nova Scotian, Hon. H. Winters, voiced the same sentiments as the illustrious Howe and introduced legislation to establish the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada.

The object of the Bill is to provide for the placing of the Historic Sites Board of Canada on a statutory basis. An advisory board has been in existence for some time and with the co-operation of government, has carried on a most commendable work.

Public interest in the Board has increased greatly in recent years and there has been a quickening appreciation of the need for more extensive activity.

The Royal Commission on National Development in the Arts, Letters and Sciences recommended a more comprehensive program of preserving and marking historic sites. The constitution of the Board under the authority of an Act of Parliament will give full recognition to the importance of its function.

It is many years since the federal government first recognized its responsibilities to honor and preserve historic sites and while progress has been slow we are hopeful of better things in the future. In 1919 an honorary historic sites board was appointed to advise the department in the selection of sites and events of national importance and worthy of commemoration. Since 1919 this board has examined, for their historical significance, the circumstances surrounding more than 1,000 sites. It has declared 623 of these to be of national importance. Already 429 historic sites have been marked or acquired.

There are five sites marked in Toronto but only one in North York. It is the cairn located just north of Richmond Hill at the Summit, commemorating the events connected with the construction of Yonge St., the military road and highway built in 1794-96 between Lakes Ontario and Huron to promote the settlement of the province.

The powers and duties of the new Board are to receive and consider recommendations respecting the marking or commemoration of historic sites, the establishment of historic museums and the administration of such places.

The Bill defines an historic place as a site, building or other place of National interest or significance and power is given to suitably mark such places and provide for their care and preservation.

Supported by all parties here the Bill recognizes the need for permanency in this important phase of our National growth and development. It demonstrates that as Canadians we appreciate the greatness of the legacy our history has left us to cherish and preserve.

Rural Mail

Canada's Post Office department in the fiscal year 1952-53 expended $8,375,000 for rural mail services. This was an increase over the previous year of more than $450,000.

In all the public services of Canada there are no more faithful public servants than the rural mail couriers and in the main there are none more poorly paid. This condition is due not to the wishes of the government, nor certainly not the wish of the people served by rural routes. It is the result of the tender system of letting contracts.

This Parliament has been giving a lot of thought and study to the problem of the rural mail man. As a result the government has introduced legislation designed to improve conditions and it has been generally accepted by all parties and by the rural mail couriers' association.

Under the new legislation the Postmaster General is empowered to revise contracts where the contractor is trying to do a job at a low figure in these days of rising costs.

There is such a great difference in conditions of the rural mail contracts in a country so widespread and diversified as Canada that it is impossible to set any definite schedule of payment. Road conditions, train schedules, number of boxes and many other factors enter into the work and cost of the different contracts. The new legislation gives the Postmaster General authority to take all these and other factors into consideration and make adjustments where warranted.

We hope the measure will result in more equitable treatment for the rural mail couriers of Canada and in this I am sure we will have the whole-hearted support and endorsement of the people.

I wish to thank the rural mail carriers in North York who have discussed this problem with me or written me their views and suggestions. Their co-operation has been most helpful and much appreciated.

Any contractor who is finding difficulty in making ends meet and feels his remuneration is out of line with costs of giving the service, can have his contract reviewed. I will be most happy of the opportunity of lending any possible assistance to any who wish to refer their case to me.

Now! F-T-E provides vital trace elements in new slowly-soluble form

FTE—a new source of trace elements, contains iron, manganese, copper, zinc, boron and molybdenum—in a new, slowly-soluble form.

Because F-T-E is slowly soluble, the mineral elements necessary for full plant growth stay in the root area, constantly available to plants throughout the full growing season.

A single application of F-T-E is capable of keeping vital trace elements near the roots of plants for several years.

FTE will not leach out... nor react with the soil to become unavailable to plants... neither rain nor surface water will remove F-T-E once properly applied.

All crops need trace elements

All crops need trace elements to reach full growth. Without the proper source of trace elements full value cannot be realized from available acreage.

FTE has produced beneficial effects on vegetables, field crops, fruit, shrubbery and flowers. Used with standard fertilizers, F-T-E has helped prevent crop abnormalities that are due to certain soil deficiencies.

The slowly-soluble quality of F-T-E makes trace elements available to plants and keeps them available over a long period of time. Avoid trace element deficiencies—have bigger yields—healthier crops with F-T-E.

Easy application

F-T-E can be broadcast over area to be treated or it may be mixed with standard fertilizers. In either method, F-T-E must be worked into the soil. Apply 1 lb. of F-T-E per 400 sq. ft. of surface area or 50 to 100 lbs. per acre.

King City And District

Civic News
Improvements in King City civic matters are noted on three counts. First the highway approaches to the village have road name signs entitled "Village of King City, Speed Limit 30 MPH." They are placed on Keele St. south, near the Fleetwood garage. King St. has the sign at the eastern approach and at the extreme western end of this street. They have been erected by York County Road Commission, as a result of a request from civic trustees, through the township council.

The inefficient street lighting, especially on Keele St. south, is over. A sun switch is in operation which is controlled by the amount of illumination in the air. The switch mechanism has a photo electric cell.

The old fashioned and obsolete time switch which has set the sun on and off time for lamps "gave up the ghost", after burning a fuse, burning the rods and finally when the clock refused to

"Well", for two weeks C. G. Wells, the time keeper, was forced to hand operate the switch. With an emergency avoided, trustee Bob McLeod borrowed a sun switch from hydro until a permanent set, costing $100, is ready.

Mr. McLeod also reports that a new grate has been put on the catch basin on Doctors' Lane.

Legion Lecture
The Legion Ladies' Auxiliary eulches are proving interesting means of raising funds. On Mar. 25, at Legion club house, winners were Mrs. Leonard Dion, Oak Ridge, and Ivel Wood, first places, with Mr. Dion and Mrs. Elias Bice for consolation. On April 1, Mrs. Bice, the president had the eulch at her home and Mrs. Len Robb won ladies' first and Mrs. Ernest Cammins consolation. Mr. Bice was high man and Bert Wood took the consolation. Mrs. Robb will provide her home for a eulch on Thursday, April 15. The regular meeting will be held at the club rooms on Monday, April 13.

John Whalley was born on Easter Sunday, which fell on April 9, nine years ago. His mother will entertain Eversley Sunday school which has 16 children attending, as soon as the farm laneway is free of mud. Mrs. Whalley is superintendent of the Sunday school.

Festive Scene
When Perry's new pharmacy opened on Wednesday, April 1, a festive atmosphere prevailed and friendly patrons on behalf of nearly 300 patrons was appreciated by John C. Perry, druggist who has established the new business in the post office block.

Post Office Open
Mrs. W. F. McDonald and staff and the mail carriers moved to new quarters this week in the new post office which is the pride of the community. When the office opened on April 1 Rodney Bell, 12, was the first to purchase stamps for his collection.

Clay T. Ward
Interment of Clay T. Ward, Toronto, was made in King City cemetery on Monday afternoon. He passed away suddenly at his home on April 1. He was the husband of Charlotte Crossley (Queenie), a sister of Miss Maud Crossley, King, and Miss Lily Crossley, Toronto, and a brother of Hugh Crossley. Two daughters also survive, Patricia (Mrs. Dick Milne), and Frances (Mrs. Stewart Hossie).

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Boyd and son David, Toronto, were guests of Mrs. Burwell Jackson on Sunday. David remaining for a few days this week. Also visiting his sister for a few days was Bud Hambly, St. John, Quebec, with his wife Beulah and two children.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wilson and the senior Wilsons, Toronto, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kelley on Easter Sunday.

Miss Carol Norrad and Miss Anne Specht motored to Peterborough on Sunday for three or four days with Miss Norrad's sister.

Son in Korea
Mrs. Reg. Winter and daughter

Patricia, were at King last Saturday, visiting some of their former neighbors. Cpl. Winter, who has been in Sunnybrook hospital for over nine weeks, has recently come through a severe heart attack and is still on the danger list. He has been in hospital four times in the past year and a half.

Mrs. Winter says that her son, Private Dennis Winter, is expected home from Korea in June. He has been overseas since last June and is attached to the 37th Field Ambulance.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Ross attended the funeral of Daniel Malloy, Nobleton, held on Saturday afternoon at the Egan Funeral home, Bolton with interment in King City cemetery. He was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Ross.

Mrs. Arthur Green, Islington, spent Easter weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Len Robb. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Parsons and children are moving in with Mr. Walter Monkman, where they will live until they build their new home in Heritage Park. They sold their home on Keele St. N. to Aubrey Campbell.
